FLOYD COLLINS FOUND DEAD IN HIS PRISON IN SAND CAVE

SEARCHERS REACH BODY 17 DAYS AFTER HE WAS ENTRAPPED

Diggers Break Through Within Six Feet of Entombed Man, Their Calculations Working Out Almost Exactly—Apparently Succumbed to Exhaustion and Starvation.

CAVE CITY, Ky., Feb. 16.—Floyd Collins, entrapped in Sand Cave on Jan. 30, was found dead in his tomb at 2:45 this afternoon.

Physicians, after thorough examination, announced that Collins had been dead more than 24 hours.

Capt. C. E. Francis of Bowling Green, medical officer of the 149th Infantry, Kentucky National Guard, volunteered to go into the shaft and was given permission by Gen. Denhardt. Capt. Francis reported he found it was impossible for anyone but a small man to reach Collins. Ed Brenner went to Collins body, felt the pulse, made other examinations under Capt. Francis and reported there was no sign of respiration.

No sounds came from Collins at all, no respiration, no movement and the eyes were sunken, indicating, according to the physicians, extreme exhaustion going with starvation.

The head and right wrist were the only parts of the body movable, the remainder of the body being apparently covered by loose dirt and rocks.

Official Statement.
The official bulletin follows:
"At 1:30 o'clock the lateral heading, at a distance of 12 1/2 feet from the shaft and measured circularly, broke through into the original cave just as the manhole was started, just below the breakdown."

"The first intimation of the old tunnel was the finding of several bottles, working tools, lines of wire and lines of rope."

"Mr. Carmichael was called in by Alfred Marshall when these were found. In the shaft were Albert Marshall, A. Blevens, Simon Johns and John Stevens. Immediately afterward Mike Brenner was called into hurry the timber work, the old cavern being found completely closed."

"This after breaking through a four-foot ledge of rock, verified the prediction to an inch. The distance from the entrance of the heading to Collins' head is six feet vertically. The location of Collins is at the elevation originally indicated, and within a few feet of the position determined by the first survey."

"The old cavern was found in an extremely critical condition, barely holding together. The location of Collins was found to be in the original rescue work, was called down to identify the articles found and thus definitely determined Collins' position; this being the only way of ascertaining the inadvisability of entering until the timbering work was done."

"The articles and their position were positively identified. Meanwhile Albert Marshall showed some splendid courage, so manifest throughout the shaft work from surface to foundation, without thought of personal danger. He propped loosely-hanging, dangerous boulders, and let himself down into the pit feet foremost, his opening being too small on account of his large stature for him to go head first. He touched with his feet what he thought to be a blanket wrapped around Collins' body."

Examiners Body With Light.
"Immediately after his examination, Mike Brenner, of Cincinnati, by reason of his small stature, was able to reach Collins' body."

Funeral Services at Cave.
Funeral services for Floyd Collins are planned for Crystal Cave, his greatest discovery, and he will be buried in the hillside overlooking the mouth of Sand Cave and the shaft down which the hero had volunteered to go to reach him, it was decided today by Lee Collins, the father of the cave explorer.

In Crystal Cave, which Floyd discovered in 1917 on his father's farm, a few miles from Sand Cave, is a huge crystal auditorium, 250 feet high, and this will be Floyd's burial chapel, Mr. Collins said. Crystal stalactites and stalagmites, among which he loved to roam, will mark his grave.

Twice he was trapped in Crystal Cave, the first time by a dirt fall near the mouth, when he was enlarging the fissure through which he crawled to discover its beauties. Again later he was caught in a narrow crevice which further exploring the cavern, and was pulled loose by John Gerald, who worked so hard to free him from Sand Cave.

Collins Was Trapped in Cave
By Fall of Rock on Jan. 30

For 24 hours, when, on Saturday, Jan. 31, Jewell Ellis, a young neighbor boy, penetrated Sand Cave far enough to hear his cries for help.

Neighbors and his brothers at once began efforts to dig him out and remove the rock and was pinned his legs. All such efforts were unsuccessful and outside helpers, who had cleared away the dirt as fast as his knees were blocked by repeated cave-ins in the tunnel just above Collins. Finally, State officials ordered the rescue efforts stopped. The natural tunnel being

FORMER WIFE HEIR TO CALHOUN ESTATE FINDS HUMAN TRAFFIC TOWER FOR CORNER

Woman Who Divorced Merchant Six Weeks Before His Death Is Beneficiary.

David R. Calhoun, president of Ely & Walker Dry Goods Co., who died last Tuesday, bequeathed the bulk of his large estate to his former wife, Mrs. Marie W. Calhoun, who divorced him six weeks before his death; his daughter, Mrs. C. Norman Jones of 4838 Pershing avenue, and his son, David R. Calhoun Jr., who is connected with the dry goods concern.

An estimate of the value of the estate has not been made by the executor, the Mercantile Trust Co., but Calhoun was known as a millionaire and one close friend has said he might have been worth $2,000,000 or $3,000,000. The will was filed for probate at Clayton today, Calhoun's home having been in St. Louis County, on Clayton road.

The will, which was dated Feb. 14, 1924, stated that Calhoun had previously created irrevocable trusts for the benefit of his wife, daughter and son, comprising equal portions of his holdings of Ely & Walker stock, a money-making stock. These trusts are ratified by the will, which states that they were "for the purpose of enabling my wife and children to maintain themselves in the manner of life to which they are accustomed."

In addition, the will creates a trust fund of $25,000 for the benefit of Calhoun's sister, Miss Josephine E. Calhoun, of Spring Lake, N. J., the principal of which is to go to the other three relatives after her death.

A $10,000 legacy was left to Angie Warren, who was the companion of Calhoun's mother, "in consideration of her faithfulness and companionship to my mother."

The executor believes this beneficiary is living.

The residue is left, in equal parts, to Mrs. Calhoun who has been touring in Rome; Mrs. Jones and Calhoun Jr. The son's share is to be held in trust by the executor until he is 30 years of age, eight years hence. It is directed that no beneficiary may have any interest under the will declaration, it is made that the proceeds for Mrs. Calhoun shall be in lieu of dowry rights.

Chicago Police Question Woman of That City About Operation That Preceded Death.

BRIDE WAS STUDENT AT STATE UNIVERSITY

Mate Disappeared After Taking Her to Chicago Hospital—He Is Son of Chicago Capitalist.

CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Police search for Logan F. Pierce, son of a Chicago capitalist, continued today while a coroner's inquest into the death from an operation of his five-day bride, Mrs. Nina Harding Pierce, University of Illinois sophomore and daughter of an East St. Louis (Ill.) real estate broker, was set for March 2.

Mrs. Lucy Hagenow, a midwife, was taken to a police station today for questioning in connection with the death of Mrs. Pierce.

It developed this afternoon that Mrs. Hagenow is under a murder charge in connection with the death of a 17-year-old bride, and that a court hearing in that case was continued to Feb. 27.

Mrs. Hagenow was taken into custody, the police said, after a telephone number found on the furnished room occupied by the Pierce was traced to her. The police said that the only link connecting Mrs. Hagenow with the death of the young bride and disappearance of the husband.

She admitted the police said that Mrs. Pierce called her last Tuesday of Wednesday but denied that she had performed an operation. The police said that Mrs. Hagenow twice had been sentenced for performing illegal operations. They said she was sentenced to the State penitentiary in 1918 and was released the next year and that in 1918 she was sentenced to from six to 20 years and served nine years until she was released on a special parole.

Mrs. Pierce died Saturday night at a hospital to which she was removed from the furnished room to which her husband took her after their marriage last Monday. Since Mrs. Pierce left the hospital the only trace of him was found in telephone messages to a Chicago club and to the rooming house asking about a telegram from his father.

Chambers Logan Pierce, father of the youth, returned to Chicago last night from La Crosse, Wis., where he had been establishing an industrial loan bank.

Engaged Year Ago.
The engagement of Pierce and the Miss Harding was announced a year ago while they were attending college after Pierce graduated from Illinois University he came to Chicago to start his business career in a cotton brokerage office.

Miss Harding came to Chicago last Monday from Champaign, Ill., and they were married by the Rev. S. D. White, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Episcopal Church.

Mrs. Pierce's father, R. H. Harding, and her brother, H. W. Harding, went to the rooms at noon to obtain the effects of the girl. They were not allowed to enter.

The father said Mrs. Pierce passed Saturday and Sunday at his home and apparently came from there to Chicago to meet Pierce. He said the family had not opposed the match but the young couple had promised to postpone the wedding until summer.

Girl's Effects Examined.
In the rooms which they occupied was found a letter from the father reproaching her for not letting them know about the wedding and stating that the mother was distressed with grief by the news. The letter, however, gave the parental blessing.

The young wife's trunk arrived from Champaign shortly before the father visited the house. In the trunk were a few toilet articles and a bathing suit which had brought a small handbag.

Dr. Floyd Heinemann of the hospital staff said Pierce accompanied his wife to the hospital at 6 p. m. Saturday and remained there until 11 p. m. He said of Mrs. Pierce that she was a very attractive girl and was told his wife was dead. He has not been here since then the physicians said.

GRIMM JUMPS FROM BENCH INTO MAYORALTY RACE

Circuit Judge Will Resign to Make Intensive 3-Week Campaign for Republican Nomination.

NEEDS A WEEK TO FINISH COURT WORK

Says Demand for Candidacy Is Sufficient for Him to Devote His Entire Time to Primary.

Circuit Judge J. Hugo Grimm today announced he would send his resignation from the circuit bench to Gov. Baker, within the next two days, to take effect in one week, in order that he may devote all his time to his campaign for the Republican nomination for Mayor.

He announced his formal entry into the race last night, although his action was foretold exclusively in the Post-Dispatch one week ago.

In his communication to the Governor, Judge Grimm will ask the privilege of passing upon cases which he has taken as submitted by the estimates that this will take him not longer than one week. With the primary on March 12 this will leave him three weeks for the intensive campaign he contemplates.

The six-year term to which Judge Grimm was elected in 1920 expires in November of next year. It will be necessary for the Governor to fill the office by appointment. Four years ago Judge Grimm was asked to enter the mayoralty race but declined to do so on the ground that he had just been elected to one office and could not "conscientiously ask the voters for new favors at such a time."

Files at Noon.
Judge Grimm filed notice of his candidacy with the Republican City Committee and the Board of Election Commissioners at noon today. His platform will be made public within the next few days.

"My decision to resign was made after careful consideration of the matter," Judge Grimm said today to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "I am a man of moderate means and leaving this position raises some serious questions. However, I believe the demand for my candidacy is strong enough to warrant my giving my full time to it and I can only do that sincerely by resigning from the bench."

Judge Grimm was first elected to the bench in 1908 and re-elected in 1914 and 1920. He is 61 years old.

The support of City Collector Edmond Koehler, a foe of the Republican City Committee, was the principal factor which brought Judge Grimm into the race. His campaign was really inaugurated last Friday, when the Municipal Betterment League, a nonpartisan organization, with a mailing list of 25,000 persons through its connection with the Municipal Athletic Association pledged its support.

Some of Supporters.
A. L. Shanley, chairman of the board of the Shapleigh Hardware Co.; Robert C. Day, broker; Harry P. Knight, broker; Theodore Lange, publisher, and Charles Nagel, former Secretary of Commerce in the Taft Cabinet, are others who are supporting the candidacy of Judge Grimm.

Judge Grimm is the fifth Republican to file. Mike Kiel will announce his decision Saturday. The other candidates in the race are Louis P. Aloe, former president of the Board of Aldermen; George E. Diekmann, president of the Zoological Society; Circuit Judge Robert W. Hall and Victor J. Miller, former president of the Police Board. The Republican party will be opposed by former Congressman William L. Igoe, whom the Democrats are supporting their support.

"Address to the People."
Judge Grimm in announcing his candidacy made the following "Address to the People":

"After serious and earnest consideration I have concluded to file for the nomination for Mayor of this city. Without undertaking at this time to state my platform, it is my belief that I am in a position to give the people a better government than the one which I have in mind."

These questions have presented themselves:

The importance of the office in question and the opportunity

BOY DROWNED IN PARK LAGOON; 2 BROTHERS SAVED

William H. Reed Sees Boys Sinking and Plunges Into Icy Water to Rescue Them.

BOY PULLED FROM BENEATH ICE

Rescuer Is 66 Years Old and Father of Seven Children—His Story of the Affair.

A 66-year-old grandfather, strolling through Carondelet Park yesterday afternoon, came upon two boys sinking in a lagoon. He dived into the ice-coated water and rescued them. A third boy had already drowned.

The dead boy was Leslie Volz, 11 years old, of 4800 Kansas street. Those rescued were his brothers, Elmer, 10, and Herbert, 6. Their rescuer is William H. Reed, 6655 Goner avenue.

"I like boys," was the explanation of his heroism offered today by Reed, when seen at work. He is employed as a machinist at the N. O. Nelson Co., Tenth and Chestnut streets. He has seven children, five of them boys, and two grandchildren.

Boy Slips Under Ice. Reed is a wiry little man and a good swimmer. Despite the exposure he suffered, yesterday, he was at work promptly this morning, apparently none the worse for his experience. He was in his blue overalls and cap when reporters called.

"It was just walking around in the park," he said, "watching a soccer game and looking at some real estate. I was near the northwest corner of the park about 3 o'clock when I happened to look down into a lagoon. I saw two men throwing a rope into the water, where something was moving around."

"At first I thought they were dogs, but then I saw they were little boys. I threw off my two coats and sweater and plunged in. I grabbed hold of the little kid, but he didn't have much hair on his head and he slipped away under a cake of ice. I smashed the ice with my fist and got hold of him again and towed him in to shore."

"The other boy was not so far out, and was reaching for the rope extended by the two men. I helped him get it and we both got out safely that way."

Reed, exhausted by his efforts, was taken home. He did not know until later that a third brother, Leslie, had been in the pool and had drowned.

Leslie's body was recovered a half hour later by firemen and policemen with grappling hooks. A motorboat was used on him at a hospital until 6:45 p. m., when he was pronounced dead. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Volz, and the eldest of six children. Elmer and Herbert were confined to their beds today, suffering from shock and exposure.

Tried to Cross Lagoon. The three brothers left home about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon for a hike with a friend, Ralph Walters, 10, of 6332 Gardenville avenue. They spied the lagoon partly ice-covered, and decided to venture across.

Little Herbert was reaching for a stick when the ice cracked and he was plunged into the water, eight to 10 feet deep at that point. Elmer, who was a few feet behind, ran to the edge of the ice to look for Herbert, and he went in, too. Herbert waded toward them, and Walters ran for aid.

Herbert could not swim, the others could. When Elmer reached the shore, Herbert had disappeared, but his red-stocking cap was bobbing on a chunk of ice. Elmer turned and waded to where Herbert had been.

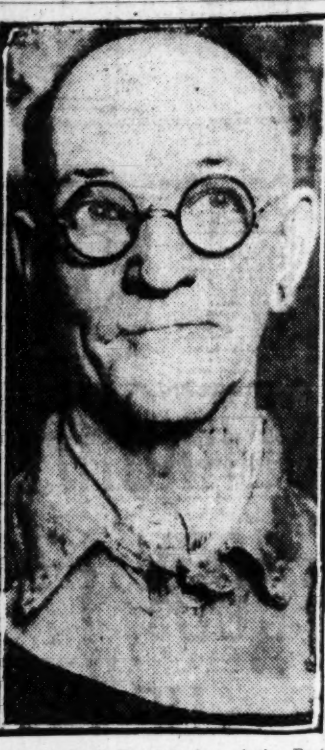

At this juncture two motorists, summoned by Walters, appeared with a tow-ropes, and a minute later, Reed happened along. During the excitement of rescuing Elmer and Herbert, Leslie sank in deep water and did not reappear.

FLOYD COLLINS FOUND DEAD IN HIS CAVE PRISON

closed as too dangerous and the shaft rescue plan was started Friday. In spite of the handicaps of lack of proper tools and materials, the work progressed unceasingly until the odor of banana oil, sprayed into Collins' cave Sunday night, became unmistakable Tuesday night in the shaft, through a sandy layer in the bottom of the shaft just above the 40-foot level.

Born in Cave County. The natural tunnel down which Collins had crawled in search of a new cavern was about 125 feet from the surface to the spot where Collins lay. The rescue shaft, started a few feet from the mouth of the cave in a limestone ledge, was aimed as a perpendicular tube, the shortest line to reach him in the bottom of the tortuous natural tunnel.

Collins, a native of Cave County, had spent his life as a guide and explorer of the caves that honeycomb the hills of Barren County.

A few years ago he was imprisoned by a falling boulder and was held captive for 48 hours. The accident occurred in Crystal Cave, which he is credited with discovering and which he owned jointly with his father.

Believing other beautiful caverns were awaiting a discoverer, Floyd spent much of his time crawling and squirming in and out among the mole-like holes beneath the surface of the earth.

His predicament was unique in many ways. Unknown at the time of his accident except to his neighbors and those tourists who remembered the name of the enthusiastic guide who pointed out the beauties of his underground world, Collins' name and story attracted national attention within a few days after he was entombed.

Persons flocked to Sand Cave from far and near. Others unable to come, sent messages of sympathy and encouragement, or made suggestions to the rescuers. Others contributed money to the rescue work, and in many churches prayer services were held for him.

Dreamed He Would Be Caught. Geologists and scientists in different parts of the country delved into their records and issued statements covering one phase or another of the situation or on the condition of the cavern region.

The State, headed by Gov. W. J. Fields, the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, cities and towns within a wide radius of the cave and individuals and corporations bent every effort to rescue Collins. Fast trains, which ordinarily did not stop at Cave City, stopped and unloaded every conceivable kind of tool and material that might be thought would help get Collins out.

The Collins family owns Crystal Cave, and competes with owners of other caverns in the vicinity for the tourist trade.

Two brothers, Homer and Marshall, live in this section, while another brother, Andy Lee Collins, now makes his home in Kewanee, Ill., but rushed to the aid of his brother several days ago.

Floyd's mother is dead, and he was devoted to his stepmother, Mrs. Collins repeatedly begged Floyd to give up the hazardous work of exploring for new caves.

Lee Collins said his son had told his stepmother shortly before he was trapped that he was to undertake two days of the most dangerous cave exploring he had ever done. He told her he had dreamed he had been caught under a rock and that Floyd had carried him away.

She told Floyd it was a warning, his father said, and asked him not to go in the cave again.

RECTOR ELIMINATES DANCING AS PART OF ST. MARK'S SERVICE

Says Fellow Churchmen "Cannot Trust Us With This Great Instrument."

By the Associated Press. NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The withdrawal of dancing as a part of the expressionistic religious program of St. Mark-on-the-Bowrie, was announced at yesterday's vespers services of the church by Dr. William Norman Guthrie, rector.

"Consideration for our fellow churchmen who cannot see their way to trust us with this great and holy instrument of religious evocation," was given by Dr. Guthrie as the principal reason for eliminating the ceremonies.

The introduction of "pagan rites" and expressionistic dances into the services of St. Mark's caused an open break between the rector and Bishop Manning of the Episcopal diocese about a year ago.

Pierce graduated last year from the college of commerce, while his wife was a sophomore in the same college.

They were both of a studious type, neither having gone in for athletics and were prominent in fraternities and sororities. Pierce became a member of the Alpha Chi Rho Fraternity and Miss Harding a member of the Alpha Delta Pi Sorority.

Miss Harding went to Chicago last Monday during semester registration period and was married to Pierce.

CHARGES SURGEON OPERATED ON HER DESPITE HER PROTEST

Suit for $10,000 damages was filed Saturday by Mrs. Anna M. Pinter of Shrewsbury Park, St. Louis county, against Dr. Robert E. Wilson, 4253 Lindell boulevard, for injuries she says she suffered April 19 last when she underwent a surgical operation performed by him.

The petition sets forth that Mrs. Pinter consulted Dr. Wilson in regard to certain nervous troubles, and at his request she went to St. John's Hospital. At the hospital the petition states, he operated on her and opened her abdominal wall despite her protest and without her consent.

Mrs. Pinter alleges she suffered great pain, weakness and soreness and her general health has been impaired, thereby rendering her extremely nervous. According to the petition the operation was neither desired nor requested by either plaintiff or her husband and was not necessary. Dr. Wilson stated to a reporter that he operated on Mrs. Pinter for appendicitis and the records of St. John's Hospital would show whether the operation was necessary. She has not paid him for his services and he had sued her for $500, he said.

ENGINEER, HURT IN WRECK, FLAGS APPROACHING TRAIN

By the Associated Press. OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Feb. 15.—Louis A. Pruitt, veteran Frisco engineer, stayed with his engine when it plunged from the tracks near Kellyville, Ok., early yesterday. Then he crawled from the wreckage, and though soaked by steam, he staggered three-quarters of a mile along a dark railroad track and flagged a St. Louis-Okla. City passenger train before it could crash into the wreckage of his locomotive and the freight cars behind it.

Then Pruitt attempted to return to the wrecked freight train to give aid to A. W. Corley, fireman, and R. A. Kohl, head brakeman. The two trainmen, residents of Oklahoma City, were found dead. Pruitt was taken to a hospital in Sapulpa. The passenger train flagged by Pruitt carried 200 passengers.

FOUR PLACES ARE VISITED IN NIGHT BY SAFE ROBBERS

Rugs Are Piled Over Vault at Furniture Store to Deadend Sound of the Explosion.

Safe robbers entered four places last night and stole a total of about $1100 cash. In one instance, a safe was blown open after a half dozen rugs had been piled over it to deaden the sound, while in another a complete set of safe-blower's tools was abandoned when a patrolman tried an unlocked door.

At the Prosper Furniture and Storage Co., 3320 Olive street, the robbers entered by prying open a side window concealed behind a billboard. After opening a large vault they took rugs from the stock and draped them over a small safe which they blew open. About $200 was taken, officials of the company said, but the robbers overlooked $600 which an employee had secreted in the vault.

A policeman passing the Blumer Food Store, 707 Locust street, at 10 p. m., noticed that the door was not locked and entered. He heard the sound of hurrying feet in the rear, but saw no one, and found a safe-blower's outfit on the floor—complete with jimmy, punch, hammer, candle, caps and fuses, except for the explosive.

Combinations were battered off two saloon safes during the night. At the saloon of Philip Rohman, 500 Chouteau avenue, $700 was taken, and at the saloon of John W. Kenniston, 1023 South Thirty-ninth street, $310 was taken.

Man Kidnaped at Door of Home and Robbed of Auto. Millard Waldheim of 4522 Lindell boulevard was kidnaped at his door last night by two men, who forced him to drive more than a mile and then robbed him of $8 and his Packard automobile. He was getting into the machine when the men, with revolvers, stepped up.

"Hurry up; we're going with you," one of them said, and forcing him into the car, they got in beside him. After driving east over a circuitous route, they ordered him to stop near Newstead and Duncan avenue, where they took his money and put him out.

Miss Mary Littman, proprietor of a drug store at 5700 Page boulevard, was robbed of $53 by two men who entered the shop last night and asked for aspirin. While she was getting it, they drew revolvers and made her kneel before the prescription counter.

Rug burglars called at two homes during the evening. Several rugs, a bird cage, a canary and jewelry, worth in all about $200, and about $200 cash, were taken from the home of George Maguire, 4242 Flora avenue.

Rugs, worth pillows and a bridge lamp, sofa and a rug, were taken from the home of Walter R. Mantell, 5709 Vernon avenue. A sneak thief in the cloak room at Croatan Hall, 1441 Chouteau avenue, during a meeting last night, stole four women's coats valued at $250.

Attitude on Judgeship. "As to the other aspect of the matter it strikes me that the close attention to a case on trial which is necessary to correct decisions, not well reconcilable with the personal absorption and the intense activities and conflicts of a mayoralty campaign."

In view of these facts I shall from today on discontinue the trial of cases, and after passing upon a number of cases which have been under advisement, which may be expected within the course of a week, shall then retire upon acceptance of my resignation.

"I shall file for this nomination at the earliest opportunity, and then as soon as my judicial work has been disposed of enter actively upon my campaign and devote my time to it, trusting that the people of this city may interpret my ambition for the office of Mayor as a sincere desire to serve them in an office in which I may be able to accomplish the most good."

Hall to Stay on Bench. Circuit Judge Hall said today he would not resign. He was elected to a six-year term in November and began serving it Jan. 1 last. "I am giving litigants the same fair trial that I always have and my mind is not so crowded with political affairs that I cannot give my full measure of service to the court," he said. "I see no occasion for resigning."

He Was Sole Owner of San Francisco Chronicle—Born in St. Louis.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—M. H. de Young, publisher of the San Francisco Chronicle, died here last night, following an operation yesterday afternoon for intestinal trouble.

De Young was born in St. Louis in 1849. He was the son of Michael H. and Amelia de Young. He was descended from a French noble family. At an early age he removed to San Francisco and was educated here.

In 1865, De Young, with his brother, Charles, established the Chronicle, which was made a leading newspaper on the death of Charles in 1880. At that time De Young became sole proprietor of the paper and its editor-in-chief.

The Chronicle publisher often told of how he and his brother started their little paper on a borrowed $20 gold piece.

De Young was actively engaged in directing the Chronicle up to the time of his death. He recently constructed a large new building at Fifth and Mission streets here, a home for the paper. His private office in the building was one of the show places for interior decoration in the city.

In 1889 De Young was chosen commissioner from California to the Paris Exposition. In 1892, he was a candidate for the United States senatorship on the Republican ticket. He was a delegate to the national Republican convention in 1888 and 1892. He was delegate-at-large and chairman of the California delegation to the Republican convention in 1896.

For eight years he was a member of the Republican National Committee and vice chairman four years. He once was president of the International League of Press Clubs. He was a director of the Associated Press for 25 years.

De Young was a member of the Union League Club, the Olympic Commercial and Country Club here. Last week he was given a life membership in the Union League Club because of his work as president and member.

He is survived by four daughters. They are: Mrs. George Cameron, Mrs. Nion Tucker and Mrs. Joseph O. Robin of San Francisco and Mrs. Ferdinand Thieriot of Paris. Mrs. de Young and a son died some years ago.

He gave the city the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in Golden Gate Park some years ago. It is one of the largest in the West. His donations to charity have always been large.

The death of De Young leaves Arthur Clarke in editorial charge of the Chronicle.

MONKEY TIED NEAR THE PULPIT DURING EVOLUTION SERMON

New York Minister Challenges Audience to Concede Common Ancestry With Simian.

By the Associated Press.
NORFOLK, Va., Feb. 16.—A monkey, tethered a few feet from the pulpit as an exhibit against the evolution theory, cast quizzical glances over an overflowing congregation in the Park Avenue Baptist Church here last night while the Rev. Dr. Floyd T. Holland preached a sermon on "Man or Monkey."

The climax came when the monkey was held aloft in the pulpit, a stern finger thrust toward him, and the pastor challenged anybody in the church to stand up and concede common ancestry with the simian. Nobody stood up. The minister explained that his theme and the live exhibit from the zoo were prompted by the introduction of a bill in the North Carolina Legislature to prohibit teaching of the evolution theory in State-supported schools.

Under this measure, wearing in public places of any mask, hood, robe or paraphernalia of any kind, which conceals the identity of the wearer, would be unlawful. The bill makes an exception of masks worn in lodge rooms or in entertainments and theatrical performances.

Peters Loses Interest.
Spellman prepared this measure about two weeks ago, and announced it would be introduced immediately in conjunction with another bill by David Peters of Cole County, which would compel all secret societies to file lists of all their members with the Secretary of State every three months. The bill is Republican floor leader in the House.

Since announcement was made that the bill had been drafted, Peters, who repeatedly had asserted he would introduce his anti-mask bill and make a fight for its passage, has evinced less interest in the measure. He recently stated he would not introduce his bill.

Peters said his duties as floor leader would prevent his giving the necessary time to the bill. However, Klan sympathizers are known to have threatened reprisals if Peters introduced his anti-mask bill, and indicated that Peters might be unhorsed as floor leader. Peters was elected on an anti-Klan platform.

Other legislators, not desiring such a bill to be brought to a roll call in the House, have urged that an anti-mask bill would upset "harmony" in the Republican side of the House.

Not in Keeping With Platform.
This is not exactly in keeping with the unqualified denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan in the Republican State platform, on which the Republican members of the House of Representatives ran for office. That platform, adopted at the Republican platform convention here last September, included a plank which stated, in part: "We oppose the Ku Klux Klan because it denies to American citizens the full exercise of those sacred rights (civil and religious) guaranteed under the constitution, and tends to arouse racial and religious hatreds."

Spellman has drafted another bill which he said would be introduced later to compel all membership corporations or associations requiring an oath as a prerequisite to membership, to file lists of their members with the Secretary of State every three months. It excepts labor unions and benevolent orders incorporated under the laws of Missouri.

The measure makes it a misdemeanor for any person, having knowledge that an organization is violating the provision of the act, to join such organization, remain a member, or attend its meetings.

Under this measure, wearing in public places of any mask, hood, robe or paraphernalia of any kind, which conceals the identity of the wearer, would be unlawful. The bill makes an exception of masks worn in lodge rooms or in entertainments and theatrical performances.

BILL UNMASKING KLAN INTRODUCED IN HOUSE

Measure Sponsored by Spellman of St. Louis Provides Prison Terms.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 16.—A bill unmasking the Ku Klux Klan in Missouri and providing a penalty of two to five years imprisonment in the penitentiary for violation of the proposed ban on wearing masks, was introduced in the House this afternoon by Representative John G. Spellman of St. Louis.

Under this measure, wearing in public places of any mask, hood, robe or paraphernalia of any kind, which conceals the identity of the wearer, would be unlawful. The bill makes an exception of masks worn in lodge rooms or in entertainments and theatrical performances.

NARCOTICS FOUND ON 26 PRISON INMATES

U. S. Agents Search and Arrest Convicts at Jefferson City Following Movie.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 16.—Federal narcotic agents, investigating the smuggling of narcotics into the Missouri Penitentiary and their use by convicts, made 26 arrests yesterday inside the prison.

As the Sunday movie show ended and the convicts filed out of the penitentiary theater, 35 of them, suspected of being implicated in the drug traffic, were searched from head to foot. Twenty-six were found either to be in possession of narcotics or under their influence. One had morphine concealed in his artificial leg. A considerable quantity of narcotics, mostly morphine, was seized.

The 26 were placed in stripes and segregated from the rest. Among them was Ora Lewis, lifetimer, and one of the notorious Lewis brothers who murdered two St. Louis policemen. Formal charges will be preferred later. The drugs are believed to have been passed to the convicts in the dark theater.

The arrests were made by H. O. Forrer and W. O. McDonald, narcotic agents from Kansas City, assisted by Dr. Cortez F. Enloe, director of penal institutions, and Warden S. T. Nix.

McDonald and others have been investigating the drug traffic here for several months. Last October they arrested a prison shop foreman on a charge of dealing in narcotics, and a week ago they arrested a former guard in a raid on his roadside house, where narcotics and liquor were reported seized.

More arrests are expected. Dr. Enloe conferred last week with Gov. Baker and was instructed to push the investigation to the limit. Among the 26 men held are the following St. Louis convicts besides Ora Lewis: Theodore Freerhersey, serving a life term for murder; Oliver Hamilton, life term for murder; Fred Tracy, life term for murder; Alvin West, 45 years for robbery; Lee McEwan, five years for robbery, and Charley Dams, St. Louis County, 20 years for robbery.

Dr. Enloe conferred with Gov. Baker last week on the plans of the State Penal Board to break up the drug smuggling at the prison, in co-operation with the Federal officers, and was instructed by Baker to go the limit in the effort to stop the traffic.

Under this measure, wearing in public places of any mask, hood, robe or paraphernalia of any kind, which conceals the identity of the wearer, would be unlawful. The bill makes an exception of masks worn in lodge rooms or in entertainments and theatrical performances.

Since announcement was made that the bill had been drafted, Peters, who repeatedly had asserted he would introduce his anti-mask bill and make a fight for its passage, has evinced less interest in the measure. He recently stated he would not introduce his bill.

Peters said his duties as floor leader would prevent his giving the necessary time to the bill. However, Klan sympathizers are known to have threatened reprisals if Peters introduced his anti-mask bill, and indicated that Peters might be unhorsed as floor leader. Peters was elected on an anti-Klan platform.

Other legislators, not desiring such a bill to be brought to a roll call in the House, have urged that an anti-mask bill would upset "harmony" in the Republican side of the House.

Not in Keeping With Platform.
This is not exactly in keeping with the unqualified denunciation of the Ku Klux Klan in the Republican State platform, on which the Republican members of the House of Representatives ran for office. That platform, adopted at the Republican platform convention here last September, included a plank which stated, in part: "We oppose the Ku Klux Klan because it denies to American citizens the full exercise of those sacred rights (civil and religious) guaranteed under the constitution, and tends to arouse racial and religious hatreds."

Spellman has drafted another bill which he said would be introduced later to compel all membership corporations or associations requiring an oath as a prerequisite to membership, to file lists of their members with the Secretary of State every three months. It excepts labor unions and benevolent orders incorporated under the laws of Missouri.

The measure makes it a misdemeanor for any person, having knowledge that an organization is violating the provision of the act, to join such organization, remain a member, or attend its meetings.

FATHER OF SIX CHILDREN KILLED BY STREET CAR

Matt Farley Struck by Hoddiamont Owl on Right-of-Way in Rear of 4031 Enright.

A widow and six small children were left in utter destitution when Matt Farley, 39 years old, of 3837 Cozens avenue, was struck and killed by an eastbound Hoddiamont owl car at 2:10 a. m. today. The fatal accident occurred in the alley right-of-way in the rear of 4031 Enright avenue under circumstances as yet unexplained.

Motorman Thomas Neville of 1038 East Park place told the police his headlights revealed Farley when it was too late to stop the car. Farley was lying between the rails and his body was dragged 40 feet before the car, with motors reversed, came to a stop. A wrecking crew was called to take the body from under the car.

Widow Is Prostrated.
Mrs. Alta Farley, prostrated by the death of her husband, was unable to explain his presence on the right-of-way.

"He was out yesterday evening," she said. "I assumed he had been to church and had stopped to visit some of his friends. When he got home at 11:30 I was in bed and he came in and asked me if there was anything to eat. I told him I would get up and prepare something, but he said he would go down to the restaurant. He had not been drinking, and apparently intended to come back within half an hour."

Farley was identified by a book in his pocket, which bore his name on the fly leaf. Mrs. Farley said today that the family was without funds and would have to use Farley's $300 insurance to bury him. Farley was a plumber's helper and his last week's salary of about $25 was used for rent and groceries.

Family Left Destitute.
"We haven't a thing in the world," the widow told a reporter today, as she held her youngest child, Genevieve, one year old, in her arms. "We have no relatives and no money in the bank. I suppose one of the children will have to stay out of school to mind the babies while I get a job."

The other children are Dorothy, 2; James, 6; Anna, who was 8 yesterday; John, 10, and Margaret, 11.

NATIONS AND TWO OTHERS
GIVE BOND IN FRAUD CASE

Christian W. Beck, President of Federal Home Building Corporation, Has Not Given Bail.

Three of the six officers and directors of the Federal Home Building Corporation, who were indicted by the Federal grand jury Friday, on charges of using the mails to defraud and conspiracy, appeared today before United States Commissioner Atkins and gave bond of $7500 each, returnable on March 2, the first day of the March term.

They are Gus O. Nations, formerly in charge of prohibition enforcement forces here and a director of the company; J. H. Beck, director, and E. J. Barrett, general manager. Those named in the indictment who have not yet given bond are Christian W. Beck, president; Eugene H. Paulus and David Beckett, directors.

MIGRATORY BIRD BILL HELD UP
Senator Objects to Measure Going on Consent Calendar.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Without explanation, Senator King today objected to the Brookhart migratory bird bill, which would establish bird refuges and public shooting grounds under Government supervision, when the measure came before the Senate on the unanimous consent calendar.

The bill has the support of the Senate steering committee and efforts probably will be made to pass it later. In the House, a similar bill, introduced by Representative Daniel Anthony (Rep.) of Kansas, has been given a special rule which will insure its consideration this week.

SHOT ON STREET, MAN LAYS ATTACK TO BLACKMAILERS

Rosario Demalleo, 51, Collinsville, Seriously Wounded While on Visit to St. Louis.

The shooting of Rosario Demalleo, 51 years old, as he passed 824 North Eighth street at 6 p. m. yesterday, was the culmination of a blackmail plot, detectives believe, in which Italian feudists attempted to make good their threat to kill him if he did not pay them $200.

Demalleo, a miner, who lives at 215 Center street, Collinsville, is in City Hospital suffering from seven bullet wounds, and physicians say he has slight chance of recovery. He has named two men whom he suspects as his assailants.

To detectives he said he came to St. Louis yesterday afternoon and spent most of the afternoon at a steamship agency at 819 Wash street, operated by Matt Acquaviva, a friend.

"I left at six o'clock and started north in Eighth street," he told a detective who understands Italian. "As I reached 824 North Eighth street I felt I was being followed. I turned to look behind me and saw two men. They began shooting and ran away before I got a good look at them."

Several men who ran to the scene of the shooting said they saw two men run as Demalleo fell. One of Demalleo's assailants dropped a small caliber revolver from which four shots had been fired.

Demalleo said feudists had persistently demanded money from him under pain of death. At his suggestion detectives visited his home where they found an old letter written in Italian in which feudists ordered him to pay $200. Several Italians are held at Carr Street Police Station pending investigation of the shooting and the police are seeking the two men named by Demalleo.

UNHURT IN 75-FOOT PLUNGE
A Dodge coupe plunged over a 75-foot embankment in Belleview Park, 5600 South Broadway, last midnight, and was wrecked on the Missouri Pacific right-of-way which skirts the park on the east.

The owner and driver, Roy F. Patlow, 28 years old, of 604 Kingshighway Park, crawled from the wreckage with a few minor scratches, and reported his accident to Carondelet district police. He lost control of the machine while turning a curve, he said.

POLICEMAN WHO WAS WOUNDED BY NEGRO

SPECIAL OFFICER FRANK B. HARRIS.

Special Officer Frank B. Harris was shot by a negro murderer Saturday night, was reported today by physicians at City Hospital following an operation yesterday in which a bullet was removed from his abdomen. He had rallied considerably this morning, the physicians said, but still is in a grave condition with constant danger of a relapse.

Harris' assailant, Mark Jones, 36 years old, of 2120 Wash street, died early yesterday of wounds inflicted by other policemen in a running fight after Special Officer Harris was shot. A few minutes before Harris was shot, Jones had shot and killed another negro, William Johnson, 51, of 2127 Walnut street, in a resort at 1116 North Nineteenth street.

Harris was one of a group of officers who responded to a riot call from the Nineteenth street house at 11:15 p. m. They saw Jones in a hallway at 2120 Wash street and Harris alighted from a police car holding a flashlight and a revolver. Jones fired two shots at him without warning and fled through the hallway. Six policemen pursued, shooting, and on a lot at Twenty-second street and Franklin avenue, the negro fell with three bullets in his body. His only explanation was that he was drunk.

Harris is 35 years old and has been on the force since 1914. He lives at 4053 Arsenal street with his wife and daughter.

WOUNDED POLICEMAN'S CONDITION STILL GRAVE

Special Officer Frank B. Harris Was Shot by Negro, Who Later Was Slain.

Considerable improvement in the condition of Special Officer Frank B. Harris of Carr Street District, shot by a negro murderer Saturday night, was reported today by physicians at City Hospital following an operation yesterday in which a bullet was removed from his abdomen. He had rallied considerably this morning, the physicians said, but still is in a grave condition with constant danger of a relapse.

RADIO TALK ON CATHOLIC ATTITUDE TOWARD EDUCATION

"Religion permeates all branches of knowledge," says Rev. George C. Ring, S. J.

The attitude of the Catholic Church toward education, particularly primary, was set forth in a discourse broadcast last night from Station WVEU, by the Rev. George C. Ring, S. J., of St. Louis University. The general law of Catholic children in Catholic schools, with legitimate exceptions due to circumstances, was announced.

"Religion permeates all branches of knowledge," the speaker said. "It supplies a background and an interpretation for every particular science. Ideas of God and of man's duty towards Him arise in almost every work of literature. History is a play without a theme unless there is reference to divine providence and an interpretation of Christ's church. The phenomena of the natural sciences clamor an eternal 'why' which is unanswerable if we abstract from the Maker and Lawgiver. Again, religion is a branch of knowledge itself to be learned by systematic instruction. Then there is that unquestionable principle that education's best part is the formation of character, the result of the reaction to motives, chiefly religious and ethical."

"Let me be not misunderstood. The church thunders no anathema against American public schools. She has her own principles of education. Some may deem this a mere point of view. We believe it something more, the expression of objective and unerring truth. The venerable charter of the American Constitution guarantees liberty of worship and thus the freedom of the school where religion is taught."

W. G. Gamble Says Corner Has Been Sought as Site for Hotel and Theater.

W. G. Gamble denied today that Joseph Oppenheimer, proprietor and manager of the Garrick Theater had obtained an option on property owned by the Gamble estate at the southeast corner of Seventh and Chestnut streets.

Oppenheimer, he said, had sought on several occasions to acquire the site for a theater for the Mutual Burlesque Circuit, but that no terms had been agreed upon.

Gamble also said several other offers, carrying theater and hotel plans, had been made for the property.

Neuritis, the King of Pains

Only those who have experienced the merciless, stabbing pains of neuritis can fully describe the torture caused by this inflammation of the nerves, which is brought on by colds, injuries, bruises or infectious diseases. Sometimes it results from an attack of rheumatism or sciatica. Even the excessive drinking of coffee will often produce neuritis, physicians claim.

No matter how it gets its start, neuritis can be promptly relieved without the use of narcotics or "dope." One or two applications of Tysol will usually stop the most severe pain, whether in the shoulder, neck, forearm, back, thigh or leg. Tysol gradually reduces the inflammation and helps to restore the affected nerves to sound condition. Price $1 at all leading druggists.

BETTER THAN WHISKEY
FOR COLDS AND FLU

The sensation of the drug trade is Aspirinal, the two-minute cold and cough reliever, authoritatively guaranteed by the laboratories; tested, approved and most enthusiastically endorsed by the highest authorities, and proclaimed by the people as ten times as quick and effective as whiskey, rock and rye, or any other cold and cough remedy they have ever tried.

All drug stores are supplied with the wonderful elixir, so all you have to do is to step into the nearest drug store, hand the clerk half a dollar for a bottle of Aspirinal and tell him to serve you two teaspoon-fuls. With your watch in your hand, take the drink at one swallow and call for your money back in two minutes if you cannot feel the distressing symptoms of your cold fading away like a dream, within the time limit. Don't be bashful, for all druggists invite you and expect you to try it. Everybody's doing it.

Take the remainder of the bottle home to your wife and children, for Aspirinal is by far the safest and most effective, the easiest to take and the most agreeable cold and cough remedy for children as well as adults. Quickest relief for catarrhal croup and children's choking up at night.

MINNEAPOLIS FEDERAL JUDGE

ENDS LIFE IN HIS CHAMBERS
John Franklin McGee, 65 Years
Old, Believed That His Health
Was Failing.By the Associated Press.
MINNEAPOLIS, Feb. 16.—Belief that his health was failing prompted Federal Judge John Franklin McGee of Minneapolis to end his life by shooting yesterday. He was 65 years old.

His body was found in a vault in his chambers at the Federal building, a bullet wound in the temple and a pistol with one exploded cartridge nearby.

Judge McGee was admitted to the bar in Illinois when he was 21 years old, without having attended a law school or college. He moved to Devil's Lake, Dakota territory, and then to Minneapolis, where he followed his profession through many prominent positions. He was appointed to the Federal bench in 1923 by President Harding.

Judge McGee had inflicted severe punishment on violators of the Volstead law. At one time he imposed 112 sentences in 133 minutes, sent 69 men to jail and assessed $53,709 in fines. Another day he sentenced 45 men in less than two hours, and sightseeing busses became necessary to convey the men to the various county jails.

One of the severest sentences which Judge McGee ever imposed was meted out to James Daugherty, who was ordered to Federal prison for 15 years after he had been found guilty on three counts of violating narcotic laws. The sentence was reduced to five years by the Circuit Court of Appeals.

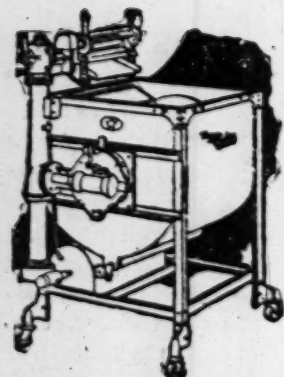

CLAIMS AGAINST E. G. LEWIS

ESTIMATED AT $17,315,000
Creditors File 9000 Claims Against California Land Promoter.By the Associated Press.
SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Feb. 16.—Liabilities of E. G. Lewis, promoter of the Atascadero and Palms Verdes tracts, are listed as $10,650,922.24 by Commissioner in Bankruptcy Butcher, and Dec. 15 set for expiration of the time limit for filing claims against the promoter.

Lewis' assets, according to his own estimate, are $23,640,145.48. Unliquidated claims are set forth as comprising $17,315,000 of the assets, oil leases $145,171.12, and real estate $27,666. There are 800 pages of scheduled assets, in 23 divisions. Nine thousand claims were filed against Lewis. A creditors' meeting will be held in Atascadero the first week in March.

Consins Kill Each Other.
LUCILE, Miss., Feb. 15.—Hugh and Lige Landrum, first cousins, killed each other late yesterday in a shotgun duel that followed an argument when a dog owned by Lige attacked a sheep owned by Hugh and Hugh killed the dog. Both men left families.

COUNT SALM, ADOPTED BY JANITOR, BECOMES HUNGARIAN

Said to Be Awaiting Arrival of Wife, the Former Millicent Rogers.

By the Associated Press. VIENNA, Feb. 15.—The Austrian Count Ludwig Salm-Hogstraten, who married Millicent Rogers daughter of Col. H. H. Rogers of New York, in January last year, in a few days will be in possession of authorization by a competent court for his adoption as the son of the janitor of the Budapest Foreign Office, a man named Kovacs. Thus, he will become a native of Hungary.

ACCIDENT, SAYS HUSBAND WHO SHOT WIFE AT DANCE

Granite City Man Says He Was Nervously Fingering Automatic Pistol in Pocket.

The first annual dance of the Granite City Fire Department was in progress at Labor Temple at 12:15 a. m. yesterday when a shot was heard and Mrs. Anna Maserang, 19 years old, fell to the floor, shot in the left thigh, by her husband, Oliver, 21.

The dance went on, while Mrs. Maserang was removed to St. Elizabeth's Hospital, where it was said her condition was not serious. Her husband declared the shooting was an accident. He said he had asked his wife to accompany him to their home, 2126 State street, and she had refused. While they argued, he nervously fingered an automatic pistol in his pocket. He explained, and suddenly it was discharged.

Maserang was arrested, but released on bond and it is not expected that there will be prosecution. The couple were married about a month ago.

Husband Deported, Woman Goes Also.

By the Associated Press. NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 16.—Thorsen Holmquist, formerly of Detroit, and his wife have been deported. They sailed for their Norway home yesterday. The husband came here two years ago as a sailor and without legally entering the country settled in Detroit and obtained a good position. He sent for his wife, but when he came to New York to meet her his case was investigated and it was decided that though his wife could enter, he must be deported, and voluntarily submitted to deportation rather than be without him. They intend to return as soon as it is possible to enter the United States legally.

ST. LOUIS SLAYER HANGS HIMSELF IN PRISON CELL
Chalmers Milner Was Serving 20-Year Term for Murder of Storekeeper 5 Years Ago.
JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 16.—Chalmers Milner, 26 years old, serving a 20-year sentence for the murder of a St. Louis storekeeper in a holdup five years ago, hanged himself in his cell yesterday afternoon with a window cord.
Milner retired to his cell at an hour when most of the convicts were on the prison playgrounds, and he was dead when guards discovered him. Prison officials said he had been despondent recently over the length of his sentence, and the loss of merit time through infraction of prison rules.
Milner was committed to the penitentiary on Nov. 17, 1919, after pleading guilty to second-degree murder. He shot and killed William Wiesing, a grocer at 1461 O'Fallon street, St. Louis, on Sept. 15, 1919, when Wiesing ran out of his store as Milner was robbing it. At that time, Milner was a chauffeur living at 1455 Warren street.

SALESMEN URGE PULLMAN BILL
Editor of Railway Age Condemns Measure as "Dirty Politics."
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—A committee representing various traveling men's associations, have arrived in Washington to urge House members to accept the Senate rider to the independent office appropriation bill eliminating the 50 per cent Pullman car surcharge.
By the Associated Press.
CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Criticism of the methods being used in Congress to abolish the Pullman surcharge and to have the "Gooding long and short haul bill passed," was voiced here today by Samuel O. Dunn, editor of Railway Age, in an address before the University of Michigan Alumni Association. Tackling of the Pullman measure to an appropriation bill and the Gooding bill to the Census Code bill, he characterized as "dirty and unscrupulous political methods."

Cane Sugar Output Falls.
By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—An 18.7 per cent increase in the value of the output of the American cane sugar industry, although the volume of production declined, was reported yesterday by the Census Bureau in making public statistics for the biennial census years 1921 and 1923. The 1923 value of all products was placed at $27,251,274. The output of cane sugar, the industry's principal item, dropped from 260,089 tons in 1921 to 169,574 in 1923, a decline of 34.8 per cent, while the value in the later year was 12.2 per cent greater than in 1921.

ROTOR SHIP SAILING WITH PROPELLER IDLE
Main Engine Cut Off for the First Time Since Leaving Danzig.

By JAMES R. WARTON.
Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch and the North American Newspaper Alliance.
(Copyright, 1932.)

ABOARD ROTOR SHIP BUCKAU.
In the North Sea, Feb. 16.—Running for the first time solely under the power of her big rotors, the Buckau is now breasting the full sweep of the North Sea at a speed of four and a half knots. This is considered very creditable by everyone aboard. Since 8:30 o'clock this morning our propeller has lain idle. This is the first time since we left Danzig that we have been able to shut off the main engine entirely.
The wind has held steady by southwest and blown steadily at about 13 miles. We are riding abreast of it and have forged ahead all day at the above speed. Under precisely identical conditions our sister ship, the Anson, canvas rigged, could not make so much headway. Our motion is exactly like that of a sailing ship. Swinging easily in the long roll of the North Sea we get an entirely different motion from what we suffered on the Baltic, when we chopped the water.

Forward one hears only a slight grind of the rotors; aft, the regular beat of the small motor which runs the rotors. View from the grinding. The action of wind and rotors is interestingly apparent today when ever smoke comes from the galley cook stove.

Think of the fore rotor as a clock, with the 12-hour opposite the bow. The galley funnel is situated just off 8 o'clock. Its smoke is caught by the rotor at 9 and swung rapidly around the rotor until thrown off at 3 or 4 o'clock. At 9 the wind pushes us at 12 and it pulls us. That, briefly, is the explanation of the rotor principle, always push and pull.

We passed Borkum Light at 8:35 last night and are now heading directly for the east coast of England. We will follow it up to the Firth of Forth.

THREE FORD AUTO ENGINES FOUND IN THE RIVER DES PERES
Police Experts Trying to Restore Number Which Had Been Hammered in By Thieves.

Three Ford engines, dragged from the mud of River des Peres near the Morganford road bridge, will be worked on by Police Department experts, in the effort to restore the engine numbers hammered in by thieves.
At the same time, 19 Ford sedans are held by the police at the garage at 2327 Lawton avenue, in the hope that owners will be able to identify the cars. All are believed to have been stolen, and to have been disguised by removal of the engines and substitution of new engines. Ford bodies bear no identifying numbers. How the old engines were disposed of was shown by the finding of the three in the Des Peres yesterday. The projection from the mud was noticed first by mounted policemen. Thomas Kehoe, was indicted by the Federal grand jury last Friday on a charge of interstate transportation of stolen cars. He was regarded as the leader of a group of six indicted by the local grand jury, whose cases were dropped last month because a jury acquitted Kehoe in what was considered the State's strongest case. When Kehoe and the others were arrested, it was stated that engines removed from stolen cars had been thrown into River des Peres, but the location was not known at that time.

Recital at Holy Rosary Church.
The installation of a $10,000 organ in the Holy Rosary Catholic Church, Newstead and Margaretta avenues, was the occasion for an organ recital last night, given at the church by Milton Blosser, assisted by the church choir. The recital was attended by approximately 1000 persons.

Pure mineral oil is certainly the finest intestinal lubricant. But pure mineral oil alone cannot remove the deep-seated causes of intestinal poison and acid (sour) stomach.
Science has now discovered the ideal combination of lubricant and antacid—Mineral Oil and Milk of Magnesia—Halley's M.O.
The sweet, soothing milk of magnesia in Halley's M.O. effectively neutralizes and counteracts the acids that cause heartburn, gas, belching and black spots dancing before the eyes. It goes straight and deep to the lower bowel, eliminating the poison. Then the pure mineral oil helps Nature carry them off.

"only a sore throat"— then - Grippe - Influenza - many dangerous diseases

UNLESS you take care of a sore throat in its early stages, you may pay for your neglect with weeks of misery.

Often a sore throat is the forerunner of a critical illness—grippe, influenza, pneumonia, diphtheria. Oftener still, it causes just a wretched, low state of health that drags on indefinitely.

The soreness and inflammation in the throat are a warning to you that germs are at work sending their poisons throughout your whole system.

Don't lose a minute in beginning to fight them. Give your raw, red throat vigorous antiseptic treatment at once—and make your treatment continuous, not just a gargle or spray night and morning.

Formamint is the only throat antiseptic of proven germicidal power with which you can keep up your fight against germs all day—in your office, on the street car, anywhere you happen to be.

Get a bottle of Formamint, and every half hour or hour dissolve one of the pleasant-tasting tablets in the mouth.

As it slowly dissolves, it bathes every fold and crevice of the throat tissues with one of the most powerful germicidal agents known to science, in a form which is perfectly safe.

SCIENTIFICALLY tested—recommended in standard medical text books—endorsed by over 10,000 physicians.

This is the most modern, most scientific way to treat sore throat.

To prevent sore throat, to protect yourself when exposed to contagious disease—during epidemics, in crowds, in dusty streets—take a Formamint tablet about every two hours.

Wherever you are, you can always renew the germicidal action with another tablet. And this uninterrupted, all-day-long treatment clears out throat germs as the momentary and occasional action of a gargle cannot do. Ask your druggist.

PUBLIC HEARING IS ASKED ON ADDITIONAL MUNICIPAL NURSES

Health Committee of Community Council Reports Staff of 28 Visiting Nurses Inadequate.

A public hearing before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment is being asked by the special committee on health of the community council for the ordinance creating 16 additional municipal nurses. Mrs. John A. Haskell, chairman of the committee, announced today.

"With the backing of 100 social and philanthropic organizations in the community council, and with the endorsement of civic organizations we represent more than 6000 voters who are vitally interested in this health problem," Mrs. Haskell said. "Because of this widespread interest, we wish to appear before the Board of Estimates and Apportionment and present our reasons for believing that is such an important ordinance."

The bill was drawn up by the Community Council Health Committee at the request of its member agencies, because the work of the municipal nurses has grown to such proportions that the present staff of 28 nurses is caring for 272 patients per nurse per month, according to Miss Josephine Goldsmith, superintendent of the Municipal Visiting Nurses. If this ordinance is passed, creating 16 more nurses in 1925, the load of each nurse will be reduced to 22 patients, enabling them to visit the hundreds of patients who need visits 10 times to the one visit they receive now, Miss Goldsmith said.

MRS. BUDLONG, VOLUNTARY PRISONER, GOES WITHOUT FOOD

She Locked Herself in Husband's Home to Forestall Possible Desertion Proceedings.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A private detective employed by Milton J. Budlong, vice president of the North Central Trust Co., today is still keeping watch outside the Budlong home in East Seventy-second street, where Mrs. Budlong has been in voluntary imprisonment since last Friday. She has not had any food in the last three days, so far as is known.

Mrs. Budlong went to the apartment and locked herself in a bedroom after losing her suit brought in Rhode Island for separation. Although she is at liberty to leave the apartment, she cannot return to it without a court order. She went to the home to forestall anticipated proceedings by Budlong based on desertion.

Mrs. Budlong yesterday asked employees of the apartment house to witness the will which she said she had prepared, but they refused. It was feared she might attempt violence to herself and the detective kept close watch on the window of the room in which she has locked herself. All callers have been refused admittance. Budlong is away with his children.

20 Persons in Billiard Hall Held Up

GALESBURG, Ill., Feb. 16.—Three masked men held up the proprietors and 20 persons in Alpha, 16 miles north of here, Saturday night obtaining about $1000. Heralding their entrance to the pool hall with a volley of shots the trio lined Walter McNeil, proprietor, and the 20 men up along the wall and took their cash. McNeil earlier in the evening had secreted all of the large bills from his cash register in his shirt and this sum, amounting to several thousand dollars, the robbers failed to get.

460,000 Francs to Move Jaures' Body.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—The amount expended on the transfer of the body of Jean Jaures, the famous French Socialist, to the Pantheon last November, was 460,000 francs. There was much criticism when the Government last summer asked Parliament to vote 460,000 francs for the transfer of the ashes, although it was asserted that it did not necessarily followed that the entire appropriation would be used.

Here's the enemy to skin disorders!

RESINOL—a gentle, healing ointment that soothes its way into the pores and attacks the source of the trouble.

The first touch relieves the itching, burning and soreness and the skin usually gets well quickly and easily unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder. It is nearly flesh color so can easily be used on exposed surfaces. It costs little and goes a long way.

When the skin is once restored to its normal condition, the daily use of Resinol Soap is generally sufficient to keep it healthy. Ideal for the complexion, bath and shampoo.

F. W. UPHAM, FORMER
G. O. P. TREASURER, DIES

Succumbs at Palm Beach to Cerebral Stroke — Directed Financing of Conventions.

By the Associated Press.

PALM BEACH, Fla., Feb. 16.—Frederic William Upham of Chicago, former treasurer of the Republican National Committee, died at his home in Palm Beach yesterday afternoon at the age of 64.

Last June Upham resigned as treasurer of the Republican National Committee on account of ill health. He came to Palm Beach two months ago to recuperate. Four days ago he suffered a cerebral stroke from which he never rallied. He is survived by his wife, Helen Upham.

Since his arrival here, Upham has been under the care of Dr. Frank Eberhart of Ripon, Wis., and Lake Worth. Mrs. Eberhart is the sister of Upham.

The body will be accompanied to Chicago Tuesday night by Mrs. Upham and Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sunny of Chicago. Funeral services will be held in Chicago, probably next Friday.

Upham went to Chicago from Marshfield, Wis., in 1894 and engaged in the lumber business. At his death he was president of the Consumers' company, a director of the Peabody Coal Co. and former president of the Illinois Manufacturers' Association.

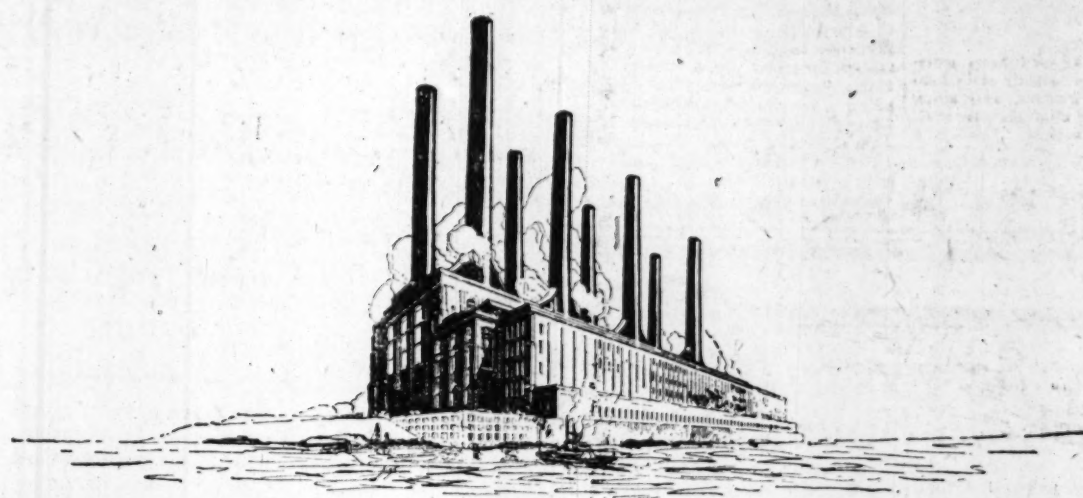

Upham Was G. O. P. Treasurer for Seven Years.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Feb. 16.—Frederic W. Upham, though active in politics for 32 years, held elective office only as a member of the Cook County Board of Tax Reviewers and as an Alderman of Chicago. He held the former office for 14 years, but resigned during his first term of the latter.

He had been a delegate to the Republican National Convention four times since his first selection in 1892 for the Eighth Wisconsin District. Since 1904 as chairman of the local convention committee he had charge of the financial arrangements for four national conventions. He saw the national convention expenses grow from $70,000 in 1904 to $150,000 in 1920. He was treasurer of the Republican National Committee for seven years.

During the World War Upham was a member of the Illinois State Council of Defense.

After Harding became President Upham was one of his closest advisers. Visitors to the executive's official residence were shown the door of the room occupied by none excepting Upham—his Washington home.

COCHRAN GETS LIFE FOR WIFE-MURDER

Receives Sentence on Plea of Guilty; Also Will Admit Killing of Mother-in-Law.

Sentence of life imprisonment in the Illinois penitentiary was imposed on Walter C. Cochran, Belleville painter, when he pleaded guilty before Circuit Judge Gillham at Nashville, Ill., today in the murder of his wife, Mamie, whom he shot to death at their home in Belleville, Sept. 10, 1923.

He was taken from Belleville jail under heavy guard, in order to enter the plea, and was immediately returned in order that he might enter a similar plea in connection with the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Hall, who was fatally shot the same day. State's Attorney Lindauer announced he would ask that a second life sentence be imposed in the Belleville court.

Cochran narrowly escaped the gallows last February when his motion for an appeal was granted after a temporary scaffold had been erected in the courthouse yard at Nashville. He had been convicted by a jury in the Nashville court in December, 1923, and sentenced to death. Last November, the Supreme Court reversed the decision because the jury list had not been read into the records of the County Board of Supervisors, as required by law.

Lindauer was planning a second trial for some time this month when the prisoner announced he would plead guilty. Cochran shot his wife in a quarrel and subsequently barricaded himself in his house for hours, resisting police who tried to capture him. The mother-in-law was shot as she fled from the building and a policeman was injured. At his first trial, Cochran pleaded insanity and an impressive array of alienists appeared on his behalf. The trial was held in Nashville on a change of venue, although Cochran was held in Belleville jail.

BANKER WHO WAS BEATEN DECIDES TO STAY IN JAIL

Missourian Says He Can Locate
Missing Bonds—To Be Arraigned Tomorrow.

By the Associated Press.
GALLATIN, Mo., Feb. 16.—Geo.
B. Koch, former president of the closed People's Exchange Bank of Jamesport, Mo., who was beaten
Saturday by a mob at Jamesport, has decided to remain in jail here,
at least until tomorrow. He faces a charge of grand larceny as the result of the alleged shortage of $30,000 in bonds belonging to the bank.

Although bond was fixed at $2000, Koch said he would stay in jail until Tuesday, when his arraignment is set. He did not indicate his plan for the occasion.
The banker was boarding a train
Saturday to come here for arraigment
when the mob set upon him.
Friends rescued him in an unconscious condition and rushed him to Gallatin in a motor car. Koch said he had sold his stock in the bank before it closed and that at the time of the closing he had nothing to do with its affairs.
About Jan. 1 last, the directors agreed to take over his stock and release him, he said.

"When my friends learned that I had left the bank, a run was started," he said. "About $40,000 was withdrawn and the directors became scared and closed the bank."

The institution was closed Jan.
23, when, it is alleged, a bank examiner found that $30,000 in bonds was missing. Koch said the bonds were in various city banks and asserted he could find them.

MAN, MISSING FROM HOME
25 YEARS, IS IDENTIFIED

By the Associated Press.
MEMPHIS, Tenn., Feb. 16.—
Henry C. Koehnemann, who disappeared from his Philadelphia home more than a quarter of a century ago and was identified here Saturday in a hospital, where he was known as Henry C.
Schwenck, is awaiting arrival of his son, Henry C. Koehnemann Jr., who left Philadelphia on being apprised of his father's whereabouts.

The elder Koehnemann, or Schwenck, as he was known here, where he was employed in a minor capacity with a railroad company, was stricken with paralysis Feb.
2 and taken to a hospital. For days he was unconscious and his death momentarily expected. His condition caused an insurance company with whom Schwenck carried a policy to make an effort to find his relatives. Detectives were called in and a two weeks' investigation resulted in establishing his identity as Henry C. Koehnemann, once a prosperous business man of Philadelphia, who had slipped from sight more than 25 years ago.

NEW INSTITUTE TO MAKE STUDY OF EYE DISEASES

Teaching Hospital Under

Work.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 14.—A great teaching hospital and research institute for diseases of the eye, the only one of its kind in the world, will be established immediately at Johns Hopkins University. It is announced by Dr. Frank J. Goodnow, president of the university.

It will be named the Wilmer Institute and will be under the direction of Dr. William H. Wilmer of Washington, internationally known ophthalmologist. It is to be financed by a fund of $3,000,000, of which $1,000,000 was contributed by 150 persons, most of whom have been Dr. Wilmer's patients; $1,500,000 by the General Education Board, and $500,000 by the university.

The hospital will have 60 beds, 40 of which will be set aside for patients unable to pay part or all the cost of treatment.

The research institute will have extensive laboratories for investigating the causes of blindness and all other ocular trouble.

Although it is to be a part of Johns Hopkins Hospital and the Johns Hopkins Medical School, the institute will be in itself a complete hospital research center, with its staff organized on a salary basis and thus free to devote its entire time to research, teaching, and the care of patients without depending on outside practice for support.

Dr. Wilmer, it is announced, has been appointed professor of ophthalmology in the medical school and ophthalmologist in charge at Johns Hopkins Hospital. Members of the staff also will be appointed to the medical faculty and to the staff of the hospital.

How Plan Originated.
Credit for conceiving the plan for the institute and for the successful completion of the endowment fund is given principally to Mrs. Owen Root, before her marriage Altha D. Costa of New York, an executive of the American Child Health Association.

Four years ago Mrs. Root, totally blind in one eye and nearly so in the other, called upon Dr. Wilmer to save the fraction of sight remaining to her.

She became interested in the work of the ophthalmologist and learned of the tremendous research still to be done in connection with diseases of the eye.

So Mrs. Root, in December, 1922, organized the Wilmer Foundation. She enlisted as trustees Robert W. Kelley of New York, who became president; Henry Breckenridge, also of New York, who is secretary-treasurer; Robert M. Thompson of Southampton, L. I.; William P. Eno of Washington; Joseph Pulitzer of St. Louis; Mrs. Henry R. Rea of Pittsburgh; Mrs. Douglas Robinson, Felix Warburg and Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, all of New York; Major-General Merritt W. Ireland of Washington, surgeon-general of the army; Mrs. W. M. Ropes Proctor, New York; Herbert L. Satterlee, New York; Harold F. Pierce, assistant professor of pathology, Columbia University; Harold R. Hoke, Washington, and David Dows, New York.

Many Large Contributions.

Contributions were solicited privately until Nov. 29, 1924, when the General Education Board pledged half of the needed sum on condition the remainder be raised. Then a public campaign for funds was undertaken.

Among the larger subscriptions received were those of J. P. Morgan, $100,000; Geo. F. Baker and Geo. F. Baker Jr., $100,000; Robert W. Kelly, $50,000; Frank A. Munsey, $50,000; Julius Rosenwald, $50,000; Felix Warburg, $50,000; James N. Hill, $30,000; Clarence Mackay, $25,000; Mrs. Henry R. Rea, $25,000; and two anonymous contributions of $150,000 each.

Trustees of the hospital will assign to the Wilmer Institute a building and land valued at $200,000. This building, now a nurses' home, will be enlarged to accommodate 40 beds as the first step in the foundation of the institute. Dr. Wilmer, it is expected, will begin his new work next September.

Dr. Goodnow said that Mrs. Root, Mr. Kelley and Col. Breckenridge were greatly aided in raising the necessary fund by the efforts of Dr. William H. Welch, director of the Johns Hopkins School of Hygiene and Public Health, and Daniel Willard, general chairman of

TRAFFIC OPERATION

TO meet the needs of growing the most important of these jobs that has been completed is Pine-Lawton

LORD BALFOUR AGAINST LEAVING GERMANY ISOLATED

Member of British Defense Commission Writes Interim Report on Arbitration and Disarmament.

LONDON, Feb. 16.—The Daily Mail says that Lord Balfour, as a member of the Imperial Defense Committee, has written an interim report upon the conclusions of the subcommittee which was especially charged with examining the Geneva agreement on arbitration and disarmament.

This report, the paper understands, ranks with Balfour's famous memorandum on interrelated debts, written in 1922, which formed the basis of the recent British note to France.

It reviews the past security policy, indicates what is deemed the unworkable character of the present Geneva agreement, and sets forth the lines upon which the subcommittee believes the future security policy should be framed.

Lord Balfour stresses the danger of leaving Germany isolated to join forces with Russia, and alluding to the important part the chemists are expected to play in future wars, points out the grave danger of Germany establishing chemical and other factories in Russia.

If Germany co-operates in a security scheme, the situation would be materially different. The report, therefore, considers it desirable to treat Europe as an entity, not excluding any large state.

"We deem it essential to reach a settlement on questions of the past," said M. Krasin. "If we obtain credits, we need to reconstitute industry and agriculture. We are disposed to recognize double liability, first, for new credits and, second, for part of our former debts;
the interest on both would be paid by the profits realized by the state trusts and co-operatives through the capital supplied."

PILGRIMS SAIL FOR ROME

By the Associated Press.
POSTON, Feb. 16.—The steamer
Ohio, having aboard 488 pilgrims from various parts of the United States and Canada, under the leadership of Cardinal O'Connell of Boston, sailed late last night on the first pilgrimage of a national character to Rome during this holy year.

SAYS TENDENCY OF INDUSTRY IS TOWARD INTEGRATION

Head of Carnegie Institute of Technology Reviews Conditions in Annual Report.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—There is at present in American industry "a tendency toward the integration of plants and the standardization of their products," says President Thomas S. Baker of Carnegie Institute of Technology, in his annual report to the board of trustees of the institution. He believes that with larger plants the products will become more uniform, with the inevitable result that standardization will place a premium upon organization and administration.

The field for engineering is changing as a result of this new tendency, says President Baker, who declares that engineering colleges must change their curricula to meet modern conditions if the best interests of the country are to be served.

"The movement in modern life," the report continues, "is in the direction of magnifying the importance of men of great endowments in all lines of endeavor, and of minimizing the importance of the man of average talents, of making him a unit in the machinery of civilization which he can serve, but in whose direction he can have but little authority. This tendency toward the mechanization of our existence may be deplorable, but whether we like it or not, the trend of the times is irresistible."

FINDS BOGUS INCA POTTERY

By the Associated Press.
BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 16.—A dispatch to La Nacion from La Paz, Bolivia, says that Prof. Arturo Paenasky, director of the archeological museum there, has discovered important forgeries of Inca pottery. Authentic ceramics from the Tiahuanaco region are said to sell for high prices in certain centers in the United States and Europe.

Iah Tiahuano is a village in the department of the same name a short distance from La Paz. Nearby are the vast ruins and mountain monuments that are believed to have been the work of the Incas and Aymaras.

ENGLAND AND FRANCE DISCUSS BORDER NEUTRALITY COMPACT

British Advocate Agreement for Regional Protection of European Frontiers.

Copyright, 1925, by the Press and Publishing Company, Inc., New York World and the Post-Dispatch.

PARIS, Feb. 16.—A neutrality agreement, similar to Belgium's old agreement, but this time including the Rhine and Austrian frontier, is being discussed between London and Paris. Other signatories are expected to be Germany, Italy, Belgium and perhaps Holland.

Since the British dominions made clear their objections to the Geneva protocol negotiations between London and Paris have been insisted. It is hoped a regional agreement, such as was foreseen by the league covenant, will be ready for the March meeting of the league council, when the British have promised to take a stand regarding the league protocol. The British Government is believed to be trying to convince the dominions of the desirability of a neutrality agreement for regional protection in Western Europe, and it is understood that if the dominions accept, the French will agree to conclude a security compact with Germany as one of the signatories, even though Germany agrees only to inviolability of the Rhine and Bavarian frontier.

France is not insisting, as heretofore, upon Germany agreeing to inviolability of all frontiers. This,
the British argue, should be reserved for a later regional neutrality compact.

CHICAGO CLUB URGES SENATE TO RATIFY WORLD COURT PLAN

Raymond B. Fiedick Says Proposal Is Greatest Moral Cause Advanced Since Slavery.

CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Following an address by Raymond B. Fiedick, former New York, formerly Under-Secretary General of the League of Nations, before the Chicago Sunday Evening Club, the audience adopted resolutions urging upon the United States Senate that the world court protocol be ratified "if possible at the present session of Congress, but if not at this session at the special session to convene March 4 next."

Having led 46 nations into the court, Fiedick said, it would be a "monstrous piece of impertinence" to ask them to "unravel all they have done." "It is a cause, this or nothing else," he declared, "it is the greatest moral cause put before the American people since the days of slavery; it is the only instrument we have for adjusting modern life to a new environment.
The world court is the substitute of authority of law for the arbitrar-ity of force. It is the one thing that will save us from war, and I believe that another war means the ruin of civilization as we know it."

Mussolini Suffers Severe Chill.
ROME, Feb. 16.—Premier Mussolini is ill with a slight attack of influenza. He has been ill for more than a week, but has refused to take any precautions, trusting his strong constitution and indomitable will power to overcome the affection. Yesterday, taking advantage of the Sunday lull in his manifold duties, Mussolini took an automobile drive. Upon his return home it was discovered that the jaunt, instead of improving his health, had aggravated his illness. It was found he was suffering from a severe chill. His doctor at once immediately ordered him to bed.

No Precedents to Go On.
This time is more likely to do in the next Senate. In this, for there are two lame ducks—Stanley and Dial—who would be likely to vote as the President desires. There are nine Republicans who are likely to oppose Warren—Borah, Fran-sier, Howell, Johnson of California, La Follette, Brookhart, Mc-Master, Ladd, and Schall, who succeeds Magnus Johnson.

There are no exact precedents on which to base a program, for never has a Cabinet nomination been turned down by the Senate.
The reasons for the opposition to Warren vary. All who oppose him regard him as a reactionary and feel that his sympathies are with the defendants in the antitrust cases that make up so large a portion of the Attorney-General's work. All likewise complain that he is not a lawyer of sufficient experience to head the legal department.

Bombs Dropped on Rebels From Air and Town of Tauriat, in Morocco, Occupied.

By the Associated Press.
MELILLA, Morocco, Feb. 16.—A Spanish military expedition has occupied Tauriat, inflicting severe punishment on the rebellious Moorish tribesmen. The new positions were fortified with Spanish artillery and Spanish airplanes co-operated in the operations, dropping bombs on the rebel forces and firing upon them with machine guns.

MADRID, Feb. 16.—Gen. Valle-spinosa, member of the military directorate, announced yesterday that an important military action had taken place in Morocco. Spanish forces surprised a large body of rebels that attacked them, taking many prisoners and much booty.

Gen. Primo de Rivera, president of the directorate, announced that bad weather had interfered with communications between Madrid and the fighting zone in Morocco.

THE POST-DISPATCH PLATFORM.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight for the rights of the people, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

California, How Can You?

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

It is getting about time for California to begin the reaping of her grain crop. They gather two crops a year here, oranges and tourists. Both gathered green, unless they happen to be frozen, as they are this year. The oranges are frozen stiff; we are frozen out. No jobs, no pay, no welcome for those who come with short funds. The moneyed are more welcome. You can be taxed on your stocks and bonds owned in other states, 7 cents on the dollar. Florida is more considerate.

The "All Year Club" is spending thousands of dollars for advertising in Eastern papers. I have their word for it. I read the announcement in a local paper, "Southern California." So reads a local paper headline. Most of this is to be spent refuting lies ("I published in Eastern papers against California's unemployment situation, high taxes, high rents, water shortage, pneumonic plague, etc., etc. If they would only use it to give part of these jobsless thousands employment it would, at least, be more Christianlike. Most have come as the result of their clever advertising. A satisfied resident and home owner makes the best advertiser in the world. But, when we come here after having read one of their glowing advertisements of "beautiful, sunny, Southern California," and in all faith, invest our few paltry hundred as first payment on a home and then lose it after many weary months of unemployment, it's enough to make one shudder and lose faith in humanity. One even loses faith in one's self after finding he's been "tricked." "I'll tell the world" this is no place for a poor man. The rich can become poor mighty quick if they don't watch out.

A FORMER ILLINOISAN.

Jay Drivers.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THE automobile drivers are constantly complaining about jay walkers. I don't blame them, but why not make the crossings safe? I walked down Locust street, south side, from Tenth at 1:20 this morning and, as east and west traffic on Locust had northbound and southbound traffic, I started to cross Ninth street. I was keeping my eye on Ninth street traffic when I was hit on the leg by the tire of a new Oldsmobile car, which had turned out of Locust street to the south on Ninth. I don't know whether to thank the driver of a passing car who said he saw me struck and asked if I was hurt and if I wanted his name. I am glad to say that I was not hurt enough to make complaint, but I shudder at my close call and I was not jay walking.

A Clock That Fits Our Politics.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

ST. LOUIS is offered a most useful clock by an Albany resident to replace that unsatisfactory mechanical timing achievement on our most famous city hall. Why not give it a trial? It certainly cannot work more unsatisfactorily than that timing apparatus of the political machinery by which it is directed. What's the matter with St. Louis? Can't it even put a good clock on its own city hall? Perhaps there ought to be a pocket filling contest for a good clock in this prosperous political town.

FOR A BETTER ST. LOUIS.

"Arms and the Man."

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

THERE is one way and only one way to stop the criminal from buying guns and that is to make him as dangerous to him as he is now making it for others. Where the risk to himself is greater than it is to his prey, he will cease to buy guns and not before. The way to cure thuggery is not to pass laws which can be evaded, but give thuggery an overdose of its own medicine. Encourage the use of firearms by respectable citizens to the point where an unarmed man will become as much of a rarity as the armed man is now and thuggery will cease. Murder will continue, of course. Murder has been with us for thousands of years in the past and will be with us until man's passions die a million years in the future. But thuggery will be no more.

W. F. CLAYTON.

Gambling in Food Products.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

IT IS estimated that about 50 per cent of the 1924 wheat crop had been sold at prices ranging from $1.30 to $1.40 per bushel before wheat went up. These spectacular rises in the prices of farm products have a canopy of happening at times when they will do the farmer little or no good. The speculators make a lot of money—those who know what they are about—while the smaller speculators get trimmed and the farmers get nothing. The consumers of farm products—in so far as prices of poultry, bread, etc. go—get trimmed also. Gambling is supposed to be illegal. Police often raid gambling houses. If it is illegal to gamble with cards, why should it not be illegal to gamble with grain and stocks—and have the police raid the board of trade and the stock exchange?

GEORGE GERDES.

MR. ALOE'S PLATFORM.

When he decided to enter the mayoralty race Louis P. Aloe said he would prepare a platform explaining what he would undertake to do if elected to the office. He has done so. His platform, as reported in the Sunday Post-Dispatch, is a comprehensive survey of the city's needs and a clear exposition of the candidate's policies and plans. It is an admirable paper. It is an admirable paper. It is an admirable paper.

The platform stresses terminal facilities as the greatest single problem for St. Louis. It is a big, difficult, complicated question. Any solution or plan agreed to by the railroads and the city administration will be referred to the people for final decision, Mr. Aloe insists. That position, of course, is correct. It is the same as that taken by Mr. Igoe in his platform.

On the necessity of speeding up the bond program Mr. Aloe speaks with mathematical precision as to the disappointing status of that great enterprise. This status, it should be observed, was foreseen by Mr. Aloe at the time the bond issue was ratified. He suggested then that delay and expense might be avoided either by amending the charter or by a suit in the Supreme Court to construe the Charter provision in point. The suit has been filed.

Transportation, of course, is always a vital city problem. Transportation facilities to a city are much the same as arteries to a man. It is a medical aphorism that a man is as old as his arteries. The municipal aphorism is equally true that a city is as old or as young as its transportation facilities.

Urban transportation is right now at a stage of transition. The motor bus is here and serving a great need. Its future possibilities can only be conjectured. There can be no question, however, of the soundness of the "consensus of utility experts" which Mr. Aloe cites, as to the necessity of "some measure of co-ordination and co-operation of all city transportation facilities, whether of common or separate ownership."

Mr. Aloe declares unequivocally for a subway—without which St. Louis cannot hope for rapid and adequate transportation.

An interesting plank in the platform is that relating to the employment of utility experts and legal talent by the city. The public utility companies, it is remarked, employ the best talent obtainable. The city should do the same—particularly at this time, when the framing of new franchises is pending. The plank on smoke abatement is compellingly phrased. "A lone City Commissioner trying to cope with this evil is a pathetic figure." The proposal that the city employ a commission of competent engineers "to determine once and for all just what can be done as a practical matter to end this shame of St. Louis" must soon or late be acted upon. It ought to be acted upon now.

It is unnecessary to consider the platform in entire detail. It is only fair to say that the platform is a penetrating analysis of the vast business of a great city, with well formulated policies as to how this business should be conducted and the methods to be employed in meeting the city's problems.

Regardless of whether he is nominated for Mayor or not, Mr. Aloe has rendered St. Louis a valuable service by his platform. He has appealed for support by just the kind of discussion the people should expect and demand of candidates for this office.

ELIHU ROOT.

It is not without regret that we hear these words from Elihu Root's lips: "I am an old man. My active life has ended." From those same lips for many, many years, for Root is 80, have come virile, trenchant utterances, utterances which have had much to do in the real business of the nation. Even at a time when most men are relaxed in the slippers of old age, those lips were outlying to the statesmen of the world the kind of structure that should support the Permanent Court of International Justice. That was his last great contribution to public affairs, and it may well be the one longest remembered.

Root has been in public life on and off since 1883, holding various offices, from District Attorney to Secretary of State, and each he has distinguished by the rare ability of his mind. Unfortunately for him, he early acquired the tag of corporation lawyer, and perhaps only that barred him from the White House. Public confidence, suspicious of corporation lawyers, and perhaps a little overawed by a man who so transcended the mediocre, he never possessed to a great degree. Yet his record showed him to be a high-minded servant, as zealous in championing the interests of the United States as he was in winning cases for his clients.

Even at 80, it is hard to regard him merely as an ornamental patriarch. If he were needed, we should still expect to see him go to the front with the shock troops.

An ounce of inspection to prevent bank failures is worth a pound of special attorneys to dispose of the remains.

GUARDING THE GASOLINE TAX FUND.

The scheme for pork-barreling half of the gasoline tax fund seems fated to die a born-in. The scheme wears the respectable guise of a bill introduced both in the Senate and the House at Jefferson City which proposes to allocate 50 per cent of the revenue from the gasoline tax among the 114 counties to be expended in road construction by the county courts. As shown by the correspondent of the Post-Dispatch, the quota for each county would be negligible for the purpose set forth.

The practical result of the scheme would be to cripple the State Highway Commission by depriving it of funds on which it is depending to carry out its plans for completing a State system of good roads. Further, the enactment of such a law would be a particularly brazen flouting of the people's will as expressed in the adoption of Proposal No. 5 at the November election. The people did not vote that tax for local distribution or disbursement by county courts. They voted the tax to speed up the building of the State road system. They assumed the money would be expended by the State Highway Commission. No other disposition of the fund was suggested. The scheme now proposed would be nothing short of treachery, even though done in the form of law.

Senator McKim of Knox County is the author of the bill. The distinction is not enviable. Fortunately the Senate and House Committees on Roads and Highways are made up of legislators who are honestly interested in good roads. These committees refuse to report the bill. They are smothering it. Technically they may be abusing their power. Actually they are serving the public welfare and fulfilling a public trust by protecting this fund from greedy waste.

AVIATION'S VESTED OPPONENTS.

The reason why the Government has spent $482,000,000 on aviation since the war and now, according to Gen. Mitchell, has only 19 planes fit to fight, is being developed in testimony at the hearings of the House Aircraft Committee.

Only one side as yet has been ably represented—the side which accuses high officers of the army and navy of virtually sabotaging aviation for reasons of professional interest. Gen. Mitchell's charges have been followed up by significant testimony from Lieutenant-Colonel W. G. Schauffler of the Army Air Reserve and Maj. Eddie Rickenbacker, America's premier ace of the war.

Schauffler testified to overhearing a conversation in which Rear Admiral Shoemaker was revealed as suppressing parts of a magazine article which would have disclosed facts favorable to aircraft achievement in bombing tests with a battleship. The Admiral is quoted as saying: "It's true, every bit of it, but we can't let this get out or it would ruin the navy."

Rickenbacker blames the retarding of aviation development to "the whims, the selfishness and the petty desire of the General Staff not to lose power." He also named the War and Navy Departments as included among the interests and agencies keeping down aviation, and declared that the threat of superior official retaliation against Gen. Mitchell for his recent "talking out of school" is "one of the most deadly things that one could contemplate to the welfare of this country."

Where there is so much smoke—"smoke" of a specific nature from authentic sources—there must be some fire. The point of the testimony is that aviation is, secretly opposed by army and navy politics because the army and navy are a vested interest. Each branch has an historic organization from which a certain number of officers derive benefits. The supposition is that if aviation is given its due as a fighting branch the navy and, to a lesser degree, the army, would be revolutionized. The navy would go under water and into the air, leaving largely to history and the scrap heap that solid old institution, the battleship, with its security, its high perfection—the fruit of incalculable labor, ingenuity and wealth—and its huge capacity for officers and men.

If we have an army and navy administration hostile to progress in aviation for reasons of self-interest it is a serious situation, indeed, and one menacing to the safety of the nation. Now that Congress is on the scene of what appears to be facts of great significance it should not stop until all pertinent facts are disclosed and doubts cleared up. An honest conservatism on the part of army and navy staffs stands in need of no defense and may be the part of wisdom. Professional interest entrenched against important considerations of national defense is another matter.

THE WORKHOUSE QUARRY.

There are few jobs more physically exhausting, irksome and unsatisfactory than those in a stone quarry. There is little chance, of course, that persons who drive their own automobiles are quarry laborers, but that is what some drivers are likely to become.

James Palmer, arrested for the thirty-fifth time recently for a traffic violation, will probably see service at the workhouse quarry, for the superintendent of the workhouse announced that traffic violators unfortunate enough to reach the workhouse will be assigned to the quarry. Palmer, who appealed from two small fines, was assessed a total of $500, and, unable to pay them, he has decided to work out his fines in a 286-day term at the workhouse.

His case should serve as a warning to others. The rapidly increasing number of deaths from traffic accidents shows a crying need of stringent measures, and perhaps the most effective would be the sending to the workhouse quarry of automobile drivers who habitually violate the traffic laws, jeopardizing the lives of careful drivers and pedestrians.

"I do not want my father-in-law's millions," says the Milwaukee riding master who eloped with an heiress, as he files a $250,000 alienation suit against him. "But only the girl I love."

DRAGNET LAW ENFORCEMENT.

Prosecuting Attorney Roy W. Rucker of Pettis County writes the Post-Dispatch protesting his sincerity in causing the publication in a Sedalia newspaper a list of all citizens who had obtained whiskey on doctors' prescriptions. In a letter too lengthy for our columns he claims that his action has already resulted in much good, and objects to our editorial treatment of the incident as "ridicule of the cheapest variety."

We fear that Attorney Rucker is taking himself too seriously. Of course, as was suggested in the editorial, the principal outcome of his publicity stunt was that all the town gossip and meddlesome element got a sweet morsel to roll under their tongues. Why should they not, with this precedent, look for publication of all sorts of hitherto private and personal facts in their neighbors' daily lives?

But there is a serious aspect of this method of enforcing a law, especially the Volstead act. A restraining order was issued by Judge Westhouse at Jefferson City, Feb. 10, in a similar case, in which the petition truly stated that the publication of such lists "infringes upon the right of secrecy between physicians and patients; that the publication of the names tends to intimidate patients and deter the really sick from obtaining medicine and tends to advertise patients as being afflicted with diseases, some of which are known to be of a dangerous and infectious nature."

The method adopted in publishing these lists is on a par with other methods of the blue-law reformers, who, in order to prevent abuses indulged in by the few, do not hesitate to invade the rights, the privacy and liberty of everybody and discredit all to punish the guilty. The people are treated like children in a school whose master punishes an entire class or all the pupils, because he cannot discover the wrongdoers. Get the law violators. And then stop. Dragnet law enforcement is the surest way to create contempt for law.

ALL ABOUT THE CRIME WAVE.
Big thieves make little thieves.
To prey upon and bite 'em.
And they in turn make other thieves.
And so ad infinitum.

It was inevitable that Mr. Baker's governorship should be embarrassed at once by his brother-in-law. Brother-in-law always bear that relation to one another. Your brother-in-law has claims upon you that cannot be dismissed. No more unfortunate and unavoidable obligation rests upon us than this. Men have stood like Leonidas and held at innumerable passes the invading foe. They have with Horatio swept the enemy from bridges and with Hobson bottled up the enemy fleet. There is no question about their bravery; but no man ever turned his brother-in-law back. Any Thermopylae whatsoever is easy for a brother-in-law. Had Mr. Baker held out against one that would have been the first time in history that such a thing happened. Our notion of Mr. Baker is that he is not likely to do anything for the first time in history.

For the purposes of this story please meet Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith of Lima, O. This is not their real name, but the story is true. And they do live at Lima, O. Any way, they were in England last August when Joseph Conrad died. They read in the paper that he was to be buried at a cemetery quite close to where they were staying. They knew nothing of British funeral customs, and had read some of the Conrad books. So they went to the funeral. A reporter asked their names. They were surprised to find only a few persons present. These were, as a matter of fact, the immediate family and a few literary friends of the author. One of the London papers next morning said: "Mr. Joseph Conrad was buried yesterday at Bishophorouse, Kent. The attendants were Mrs. Conrad and their two sons, Mr. H. G. Wells, Mr. John Drinkwater, Mr. Somerset Maugham, Mr. John Macfield, Mr. Gilbert K. Chesterton, Mr. John Galsworthy and Mr. and Mrs. A. Smith of Lima, O."

Sir: The fears of the founding fathers seem in the way of fulfillment. Our precious blood-bought liberties are now at the mercy of a "man on horseback."

Whoever first broadcasted the news is hereby nominated for this year's Nobel prize for the greatest contribution to the safety of nations. PAUL REVERE.

The need of a Sasparas Inspection Bureau is borne in on Missouri people at this time of the year. Getting the sort of timber that brews colorless tea, when the soul hankers for tea that is red, is an abuse that can only be abated by officials whose duty will be to inspect every package of root that comes to market and impose suitable penalties on those who dig the wrong sort.

—Monroe County (Mo.) Appeal.

WHAT THE RADICALS ARE SAYING.
Freedom of opinion, of speech, and of the press is our most valuable privilege, the very soul of republican institutions, the safeguard of all other rights.

Nothing awakens and improves men so much as free communications of thoughts and feelings.

If men abandon the right of free discussion; if, awed by threats, they suppress their convictions; if rulers succeed in silencing every voice but that which approves them; if nothing reaches the people but what would tend support to men in power—farewell to liberty. The form of a free government may remain, but the life, the soul, the substance is dead.—William Ellery Channing.

No matter whose lips that would speak, they must be free, and engaged. The community which dares not protect its humblest and most hated member in the free utterance of his opinions, no matter how false or hateful, is only a gang of slaves.—Wendell Phillips.

Sir: Your column is the place where new ideas can always be found. Recently there has been an embargo placed on oysters, due to the fact that they are said to contain typhoid fever germs. Now a lot of people like oysters, in fact they love them. A large number of men have been thrown out of work by this edict of the various State Boards of Health. None have made a kick about being deprived of any consideration in regard to their personal rights. About everybody in this world just at present are conspiring to evade the law in some way and these law evaders are called bootleggers. Now many people are just crazy about oysters. Will it bring on the scene a new kind of bootlegger? Will the people who are desirous of retaining their health let the oysters alone and stick to the more certain death embraced in the well-known and destructive White Mule? It would appear that sickness or ultimate death embraced in either form would be satisfactory to those who desire to shuffle off. The outstanding feature of this oyster business is the lack of protest on the part of the personal liberty advocates. They are not even allowed to make themselves sick through oysters. That would be wrong. But they are permitted to make themselves blind. And a simple through patronage of various kinds of drink and this without any protest of any kind. It is a mystery. Why one kind of sickness is desirable and another just as bad is knocked. Can any one explain?

REGULAR READER.

Dear Sir: The excellent exposition of the rotor ship in Sunday's Post-Dispatch Magazine amply established its utilitarian claims. Surely though such ugly objects will never be allowed to deface the fair surface of the sea. Certainly they are not "ships." If the sailing vessel was feminine and the steamship masculine, then these bastard boats are neuter. Old ocean itself would rise to wipe out such an insult to its dignity. Anyway, they waited until Conrad was safely dead before perpetrating this last outrage on his beloved realm.

The MIRROR of PUBLIC OPINION

This column is designed to reproduce without bias the latest comment by the leading publicists, newspapers and periodicals on the questions of the day.

EDWIN BOOTH.

From the New York Herald-Tribune.

WHEN you have designated Edwin Booth as the greatest American tragedian of his time, you have told only half the story. He was also the most extraordinary—because most potent and haunting—personality upon the American stage. There was a singular magic in that grave presence, that both in theatrical and private life seemed itself so modestly and yet with a profound effect. He would doubtless have smiled in his wistful, deprecating way at the idea that he was in any way the poet, for it was by nothing less than a poetic genius that all unconsciously he threw a spell over his public and the friends of his art. Edwin Booth, his most eloquent interpreter and one of the closest of his comrades, once set down a suggestive note on Booth's romantic charm for his contemporaries. "When he walked the streets of Boston in 1837 his shining eyes, every eye, and people would pause and turn in groups to look at him." People have often turned to gaze upon the beauty and heroism of the stage. But it is the subtle urgency of the "Prince of Players" that was the grave, sweet spirit that was in him. It is significant that the monument is not a theater, but the house which he gave to his fellow players a rallying ground and a haven for the man who cherishes the integrity of the stage. There, annually, the custodians of his memory drank a toast to his memory. And wide, beyond its doors, countless Americans similarly preserve his name in their hearts, remembering both the actor and the man.

SULGRAVE MANOR.

From the Washington Post.

NOW that Sulgrave Manor has been bought and endowed, come forward certain critics who say no Washington lived there. Here is the history of the building.

On the dissolution of the monasteries Henry VIII, the priory and manor of St. Andrews were granted to Laurence Washington, an ardent supporter of the Reformation. Laurence immediately commenced to remodel the buildings on a lavish scale, his fortune gave out and so the imposing castle he had planned was never completed. In 1610 Robert Washington and his wife, Anne, sold the estate, Laurence's sons similarly preserve his name in their hearts, remembering both the actor and the man.

It seemed to feel the same way about Joe Darcy's act. This black-faced songster also had to make a speech after singing until the wurt cork was about to drip. Kitty Doner, assisted by Brother Ted and Sister Rose, filled 29 emerald minutes with imperious pronouncements of a dapper male and a graceful assortment of songs and dances. "Smarty's Party," a play-acted in the hands of Mrs. Benson and company, contributed a little amusement to the program, balanced a season of nonsense by Mordecai and Moran. A performance by wire-walking dogs and a "wrong" act featuring the prowess of two athletes in a slow-motion exhibition, rounded out the bill.

DRAMA

"Greenwich Village Follies" Found Amusing and Ingenious
by Large Audience.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

LEVER, amateur and handsome in the fifth yearly edition of the "Greenwich Village Follies," which was welcomed by an audience particularly large and by immediate laughter at the Shubert-Jefferson last night. Once more the production was in the hands of canny John Murray Anderson. A sprightly score was provided by those eminent savants of jazz rhythm, George Gerahwin, Conrad and Louis A. Hirsch, while Irving Berlin contributed lyrics which, strangely enough, rhymed accurately and made sense.

The bright particular star of the performance was a lad in his teens, Buster West, whose amazingly agile and humorous dancing halted the show during the second act and provoked a roar of applause which could with difficulty be quieted. But he had vigorous competitors in Daphne Pollard of the dislocated hips, a past mistress of grotesque antics; in that quiet and drawing merrymandering, Tom Howard; in the two Brantley arrants; in William and Joe Mandell, comely acrobats. Others prominent were Julia Silver, Gregory Satriano, Jean La Marr and Al Sexton, vocalists, and Martha Graham, who performed a series of artistic dances.

A spectacle of unusual poetic charm was "Kama's Garden," a narrative of a dancing girl's loveless love for a Maharajah, based on the famous Indian love story of Laurence Hope and Amy Woodford-Finden's musical settings of the poems. This was lavishly costumed, and evoked some of Miss Graham's most sensitive dancing. Other major scenes were entitled "The Paint Box," "The Dance of the Poison Kiss," "A Greenwich Village Barnyard," "Bustle," "Raisin' the Roof," "The Fair West," "Moonlight Kisses," "The Dream Lover" and "A Spanish Fiesta."

Interspersed were comely episodes depending on wit rather than the slapstick. These included "The Greenwich Village Circus," "The Moving Man's Dream," "Everybody Welcome," a satire on immigration quotas, "The Fatal Card," in which four castaways on a raft draw cards to see which shall jump overboard, "The Holdup," in which a bandit discourses amiably with a policeman on the reverses of his business and "Back Stage," with the Mandell's doing a side-splitting travesty on an acrobatic turn, and "Wanted—A Man."

"The Monster" features Gooseflesh and Chuckles as Empresses. "The Monster" were not about a reporter no one would believe it. But, as is well known, a reporter's business is to take his notebook in one hand and his pen in the other and go out and get the story. So since it happens to be a good night for a murder, all that is revealed at the Emperess, where the Woodward Players are playing Carus Wilbur's theater this week, is perfectly natural.

That includes, of course, a crazy doctor, a French girl whose dead father he hates with mortal enmity, a reporter who happens along in the nick of time, a detective, and everybody else who can be had in the connection of laughs and thrills. When the gooseflesh isn't functioning the chuckle is.

If between the two one has come to assay the dramatic performance as a reporter, one will note that Hazen Whitmore and Seiner make all that is to be made of the roles of French girl and enthusiastic reporter, and that Leo Linhardt's presentation of the mad scientist is restrained, authoritative and compelling. Other- wise, the production is an outstanding performance.

But the authentic star of the drama is the door that opens it, by unseen forces whenever interest otherwise would lag.

Sophie Tucker Sings and Makes Curious Speeches on the Orpheum this week.

"AMAS" of many degrees of temperature, are celebrated in song and anecdote at the Orpheum this week. The being Sophie Tucker week, the burlesque blonde, who came on, struck the keynote of the program yesterday with "one mama" song after another. This opened the way for several other songs and quips in characteristic Sophie Tucker style, and the audience refused to be quieted until she had sung an extra or two and made a curtain speech.

New Films

By NIE.

WITHOUT wishing to slight any of the earlier pictures shown here this season and making due allowance for the fact that we are thinking back rather hurriedly, owing to the necessity of galloping to press, we do not recall having seen, in some time, a more stupid or uninteresting film drama than "The Beauty Prize," in which Viola Dana is being starred this week at Loew's.

There are one or two moments in this film when it is mildly amusing, but the brightest spot is a subtitle which reads, "MAYBE SHE SHOULDN'T HAVE WENT." Well, maybe she shouldn't. Who knows? Three or four acts of Loew vaudeville are also on the bill, but most of the shortcomings of the program can be forgiven when beautiful Florence Walton—not as slim as she used to be, but some ten pounds or so, we should venture to guess—comes out and dances with Leon Leitrim. There is no more graceful exponent of ballroom dancing today than Miss Walton and, as an added attraction, she wears the famous collection of Walton pearls and diamonds and the rest of the Walton family plate, to say nothing of some stunning Walton gowns. Mr. Leitrim contents himself with appearing in the conventional black, with just a dash of Slickcomb to give a suggestion of glittering.

A Comedy Thriller.

MISS DANA, who has nothing at all to do in "40 Winks," at the Missouri Theater, does it a whole lot better in this picture, which is a very funny farce that keeps the audience in a continual state of laughter. This is due largely to the antics of Raymond Griffith, who is the real star of the film, more than to the story itself, for the plot is very light and sketchy. It has been put on in a Mack Sennett sort of a way, and while the comedy is largely of the slapstick variety, it is thoroughly pleasing entertainment. There is some good vaudeville on the Missouri's program and also the first chapter of a bloodthirsty serial called "Idaho," which escaped, in some unknown manner from the "nickel shooter" theaters and ended on Grand avenue. "Idaho" is the type of thriller made when the movies were in their infancy and conveys valuable instruction for budding bandits and prospective two-gun men. It is being shown only in the afternoons—when children, who need these lessons, can be present.

That Happy Ending.

WITH most of the other movie theaters relying on comedies for their chief attractions, this week the Grand Central, West End Lyric and Capitol present a straight drama, "A Thief in Paradise." Except for the double ending—the hero apparently starts for heaven, but his trip is delayed and there is another finish showing the hero in the arms of the girl of his dreams, Diana Miller is the vamp and her results are surprising, even in the movies.

characters, by their dress, indicate it is not exactly a new release. The "Flames of Desire" is based on a novel and deals with the human wreckage cast up by a vamp who just would not wait for the hearts of men. Diana Miller is the vamp and her results are surprising, even in the movies.

CONCERTO FOR BASSOON

PLAYED AT "POP" CONCERT

Max Fuernmann Shares Honors With Mme. Graziella Pampari, Harpist, on Program.

It is not of record what music was played by the orchestra made famous in Coleridge's "Rime of the Ancient Mariner," but those who heard Max Fuernmann at yesterday's popular concert play the Adagio and Rondo from Carl Maria von Weber's concerto for bassoon have a shrewd suspicion as to why.

The wedding guest, he beat his breast for he heard the loud bassoon. Mme. Graziella Pampari, harpist, was slightly happier in her selection, Dubois' Fantasy for Harp and Orchestra; yet the taste and obvious melody rather palled for all the beauty and brilliance of the soloist's playing. Her encore was Alfred Holy's Scherzo.

The overture to Beethoven's "La Dame Blanche," Massenet's sentimental "Scenes Pittoresques," five characteristic dances from Tchaikovsky's "Nut-cracker Suite," Bizet's delightful "Minuet" and Violon's delightful "March of the Toys" completed the orchestra program, with Plerne's "Little Lead Soldier's" march and Mascagni's eternal "Intermezzo" as extra numbers.—H. F. A. M'KEE FUNERAL TUESDAY

Retired Real Estate Dealer Was 77 Years Old.

Funeral services for Flavius A. McKee, former real estate dealer, who died yesterday at his home, 4038 Lafayette avenue, will be held at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow at an undertaking establishment at 2825 North Grand boulevard, with interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

McKee, who was 77 years old, had been ill for two years with a kidney ailment.

He entered the real estate business here in 1892, forming the McKee-Hartnagel Real Estate Co. He was actively engaged in the business until 1918, when he retired. MORE COMFORTS FOR RUSSIA'S PRISONERS Political Offenders Kept in Well Lighted and Heated Rooms in Cheka Prison.

By the Associated Press.
MOSCOW, Feb. 14.—Russian prison conditions appear to have improved greatly since the terrible days immediately following the bolshevik revolution, a much less drastic and more humane regime evidently having been adopted in both the criminal and political prisons.

Foreign correspondents, at the invitation of the Soviet Government, yesterday inspected the Cheka prison in Loubianska Square, Moscow, which, as the headquarters of the entire G. P. U. system (State Political Police) has been the most feared institution in all Russia.

The newspaper men found to their surprise that, instead of long rows of dark cold, iron-barred cells, there were nearly 100 large, well-lighted, well-ventilated rooms with such comforts as steam heat, electric light and papered walls, all scrupulously clean.

8 Women Political Prisoners.
Eighty political prisoners, ten per cent of them women, occupy these rooms. The beds for the most part are made of boards and have rudely made straw ticks or mattresses, but they are more comfortable than the sleeping accommodations in most foreign jails.

The Cheka building was formerly one of the principal hotels in Moscow. A medical clinic is the feature of the prison. The prisoners are allowed a pound of whole wheat bread, a half-pound of meat, tea and sugar, and 15 cigarettes a day, and are given two half-hour periods for exercise.

Summary shooting, no longer takes place, executions being left to the regularly constituted tribunals. Most prominent among the inmates is Boris Pavloff, War Minister under Kerensky, who has been himself up to the bolshevik authorities and who was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for his counter-revolutionary activities abroad. He lives in a comfortable carpeted room with a commodious bed, a divan, a desk and electric heaters. He was allowed by the Cheka authorities to speak freely with the newspapermen.

No Aid From America.
Discussing his counter-revolutionary activities in Europe, he said that while France and England gave him active monetary support he had never received a kopeck of assistance from the American government. He admitted trying to see President Wilson and Col. House during the Versailles conference, but said they denied him a hearing.

He spends his time in jail writing fiction and reading. He prefers the prison regime of the bolsheviks to the uncertain hospitality of Poland or Czechoslovakia. When he is released, he declares, he will devote the remainder of his life to rescuing the Russian people from their present disaster.

Nicholas Yagoda, who since Dzerzhinsky's retirement, has directed the G. P. U., declares the successful suppression by the bolshevik authorities of all attempts at counter-revolution had enabled the Government to adopt the much less rigorous regime.

DEATH DUE TO BRIGHT'S DISEASE, NOT GAS POISONING
Coroner Absolves Fumigator Arrested After Death of Man Who Roomed Above Drug Store.

John W. Hendricks, who was found dying in his room above a drug store at 4247 Olive street, Thursday morning, did not die from asphyxiation, as had been supposed, but from the effects of chronic Bright's disease, Coroner Vitt found in a verdict returned today.

It had previously been believed that Hendricks, who was 46 years old and an ironworker, had fallen a victim to a lethal gas which had been used in the Westminster Pharmacy downstairs to rid the drug store of mice, roaches and other vermin. Elias Daniel, 26, of 1354 Vernon avenue, the fumigator who was responsible for the gas in the drug store, was arrested after Hendricks' death, despite his claim that the gas he was using was not fatal to humans. The verdict of Coroner Vitt today absolves Daniel from blame.

The verdict was returned after Dr. Vitt had received a report from Dr. R. B. H. Grahwohl, biologist, who had been commissioned to examine the body of Hendricks. Dr. Grahwohl said that his tests failed to disclose any trace of gas poison. He declared Hendricks died from chronic interstitial nephritis, or Bright's disease.

The gas used by Daniel was cyanogen chloride, which he has employed as a vermin exterminator. He told the police he got the idea of using the gas from seeing its effects on trench rats while he was a soldier overseas in the late war.

VAPO CHLORINE

Chlorine Gas Stopped Colds for 35 Congressmen, Pres. Coolidge and 5,000 Others

Concerning the use of Chlorine Gas for colds, a prominent officer of the U. S. Chemical Warfare Service says: "The War Department in its three years of use of the treatment has successfully cured 5,000 cases. He asserts he was an attendant in a clinic on a hill near the Capitol in Washington, and that thirty-five Congressmen and President Coolidge were cured at the clinic."—Chicago Tribune, Dec. 2, 1924.

Chlorine Gas Stops Colds Absolutely in Single Hour

"Lieut.-Col. Gilchrist, Chief of the Medical Division of the Chemical Warfare Service at Washington, D. C., states: 'It would scarcely be too much to say that there is no excuse for a person to have a cold. A single hour in the CHLORINE CHAMBER at a time when the cold is felt coming on WILL CURE IT—ABSOLUTELY. In the matter of common colds, the treatment has proved itself beyond question.'"

"Take a Chlorine Treatment,"

—President Coolidge

"In the White House, President Coolidge recently sat chatting with his friend, the Rev. Dr. William F. Anderson, Methodist Episcopal Bishop of Cincinnati. The Bishop was suffering from a severe cold. 'You must go down and take a chlorine treatment,' said Mr. Coolidge. 'I recently cured a bad cold in that manner and I know it will relieve you.' 'The Bishop took an hour's treatment in the morning and the same in the afternoon, being the first patient to receive two treatments on the same day. After his arrival at home he wrote back and thanked the President, reporting that his cold was gone.'—Published in American Review of Reviews, January issue, 1925.

Chlorine Gas Stops Colds

Doctors Report From All Over Country

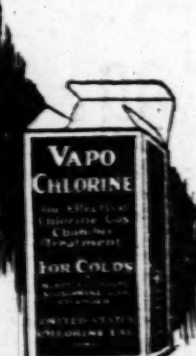

"The efficiency of chlorine gas as a cure for colds, whooping cough, bronchitis and other diseases was shown by questionnaires filled in and returned to Lieutenant Vedder by physicians throughout the country. Of 1,029 cases reported, 656 cures were recorded, or 64 per cent; cases improved, 212, or 30 per cent, and no change was noted in 51, or 6 per cent."—Fahle Ledger, Philadelphia, Dec. 6, 1924.

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a yellow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you nine-tenths of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle to their action yet always effective. They bring about the natural purgation which all should enjoy by tuning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

"REM stopped my cough in a jiffy!"

That's the way Mrs. Thomas C. Reeves of 40 Mills St., Boston, tells another new variation of a familiar story. She had had a cough for weeks—a real bad one that seemed unending.

But REM ended it and ended it quick! We know it did because here's Mrs. Reeves' word for it:

"For several weeks this winter I had a real bad cough. It hurt me through and through when I coughed, and was so bad at night that several nights I hardly got a wink of sleep.

"Then I happened to see a recommendation in the paper about REM. I figured if it had helped some one else's cough so much, maybe it would do as much for me, so I got my husband to get me a bottle of it from Newman's Drug Store at Ferry and Belmont Sts.

"It stopped my cough in a jiffy. It really surprised me how quickly I got relief. And it did the same for my husband, too, when he had a cough later and took REM."

REM's quick action in so many cases is largely due to a special ingredient—effective, harmless—not found in ordinary cough syrups. Clinging to your throat as it is swallowed, REM quickly begins its work of quieting your cough.

No Opiates in REM. And it's pleasant to take.

Ask your Druggist for REM—the blue package with the round orange label. You can have your money back if you want it—but you won't!

MILLERS SHOW POWERFUL PUNCH IN CRUSHING THE VESPER

Soccer League Leaders Score Six Goals, After Trailing in First Half

Vespers' Resistance in Opening Period Provokes Victors to Remarkable Display of Attacking Strength — Raticans Beat Scullins, 1-0.

By Dent McSkimming.

The stubborn resistance of the great Vesper team defense served to provoke one of the most startling scoring exhibitions ever witnessed here when the Ben Millers registered six goals in the second half and defeated the St. Louis Soccer League champions, yesterday afternoon. The final score was 6 to 1.

Against ordinary opposition in three previous games, the Millers had suffered themselves to relax, after making a run-away race of the early season games. They were unable to score goals and they lost three straight games. Prior to yesterday's match, with the league leadership at stake, it was generally predicted that the Millers would probably lose by a 2 to 1 score or be held to a tie.

But, a defense so perfect that it stifled every single scoring effort in the first half made the Vespers strong favorites. Goalkeeper, which tricked through Goalender, Barnett's hands and legs, gave the champions a 1 to 0 lead. The strong kicking and prompt blocking of Fullbacks Hand and Scott, together with the cool, well-ordered covering by the halfbacks, Fink, Burke and Oster, made it appear that the Miller forwards would be unable to penetrate the Vesper penalty area in a week.

Miller Come to Life. But, immediately after the change of ends, with the Vesper backs looking into a low-hanging sun and the Millers running downhill, toward the east goal, the situation was so entirely reversed as to be startling.

No manner of shifting or changing or covering by the Vesper backfield could stem the tide of the Miller attack. Jim Dunn tied the score. Ebbie Durrough put his team ahead. Jim popped through his second and then Fitzgerald followed with a pair. Jim Dunn drove the sixth goal past La Barke shortly before the close of the game.

Whereas in the first period the

St. Matthews, Kenrick Club and Henses Win Park Soccer Games

Elvens Qualify for Semifinals in Championship Elimination Series—Voss Team, Which Drew a Bye, Also in Title Competition—St. Malachys Lose After Two Extra Periods.

The St. Matthews, champions of Fairground No. 2; Henses of Sherman Park and Kenrick Club of Fairground No. 3 gained the right to compete in the Municipal Soccer Association semifinals by winning in the first round of the elimination games yesterday. The Matthews won from the Fairmount Democrats of Manchester Park, 3-0; the Henses were forced to play two extra periods to down the St. Malachys of Forest Park, 2-1, while the Kenricks vanquished the Koels of Carondelet, 2-0.

In the semifinals to be played next Sunday at Fairground No. 2, the St. Matthews will oppose the Voss team of Fairground No. 4, which drew a bye yesterday, while the Kenricks play the Henses.

The feature clash yesterday was that between the Henses and St. Malachys. Following the regulation 90 minutes, these eleven were forced to battle an extra 32 minutes before a decision was reached. In other words, the two went to a fourth period, which was decided by a 2 to 1 score. The Henses, showing better teamwork than the finalists of last season, scored in the first half, when Outside Right Sullivan sent in a shot from far out. This lead endured until the second period, when, following a throw-in, the St. Malachys forwards, exhibiting a fine passing game, put on a spurt which did not end until after Behr had sent through the tying goal.

The Forest Park representatives held their own in the first extra period, although the Henses threatened repeatedly. However shortly after the second started, Johnny Rooney, a former professional leaguer, following up a shot, sent through the goal that broke the deadlock. Shortly thereafter he scored again.

The St. Matthews made up mainly of former professional league players, including Billy Quinn, Andy Hack and Nick Reidy, proved too good on the defense for the Fairmounts. The Manchester Park representatives, who went through the regular league season in sensational style, held their own in the first half and for half the second, but then weakened.

In the third game the Kenricks won by making use of the chances offered. For half an hour the Koels outplayed the Fairground representatives, threatening repeatedly but being unable to score. Then after 15 minutes a miscalculation back Reis gave Larkin an opportunity to put through the first goal. The second by Buldo came with

CITIZENS' JURY HAS POWER TO STOP PLAYS

Organization Formed Two Years Ago in New York,
However, Has Never Functioned.

By Leased Wire From the N. Y. Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Machinery capable of cleaning the theater from within has been allowed to rust in the hands of Commissioner of Licenses William F. Quigley. Frank Gilmore, executive secretary of the Actors' Equity Association, said yesterday.

This machinery consists of the citizens' play jury system, which was perfected after months of work by representatives of religious and civic organizations and representatives of the producers, actors and dramatists. It is two years old now but never has been used.

Complaints which could have got quick action through it have been passed from the office of the Commissioner of Licenses to the Police Department and the District Attorney, with the result that plays complained of have continued to prosper.

A move is now under way to make the jury system effective immediately. Actors are taking the initiative. Gilmore will place before his counsel a proposal to take the play jury machinery out of the hands of Commissioner Quigley and turn it over to Police Commissioner Enright with a request that it be used.

About 300 persons were selected as jurors under the plan worked out. It was contemplated that when any citizen complained of play to the Commissioner of Licenses he would draw 12 names from the panel of 300 and these jurors would attend the play and pass judgment.

Although the plan is extra-legal the producers, dramatists and actors bound themselves to abide by the decision of the jury. Clause 22 in the contract of every actor on the New York stage reads as follows:

"Should the citizens jury provided for in New York decide adversely to the continuance of a production because of salacious or against public morals the actor shall forthwith terminate his employment without notice, or penalty of payment."

Cloudy Teeth

How to give them dazzling whiteness

Delicate Gums

How to Firm them. Give them that healthy coral tint you envy

This NEW way will work great changes quickly. It combats the film authorities warn as inviting "off-color" teeth and unhealthy gums . . . make this unique test

"OFF-COLOR" teeth; gums that are softening, that lack firmness—you can't be attractive if you have them.

New modern science has made important, new discoveries in overcoming them. A way that foremost dentists now are urging . . . the most remarkable of all dental methods.

This offers you a test. In fairness to yourself, send the coupon.

THAT FILM—the enemy of teeth and gums

Dental science now traces scores of those troubles, directly or indirectly, to a germ-laden film that forms on your teeth.

You can't see it with your eyes, but run your tongue across your teeth and you will feel it . . . a slippery, viscous coating.

That film absorbs discolorations from food, smoking, etc. And that is why your teeth look "off color" and dingy.

It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It lays your gums open to bacterial attack. Germs by the millions breed in it. And they, with tartar, are a chief cause of pyorrhea and decay.

You can't have pretty teeth, unless you combat it. Highest authorities all tell you this.

Brushing won't end it

Ordinary dentifrices and cleansing won't fight film successfully. Feel for it now with your tongue. Note how your present cleansing method is failing in its duty.

Now new methods are being used. A dentifrice called Pepsodent—different in formula, action and effect from any other known.

Largely on dental advice the world has turned to it. Teeth and gum troubles hence are on the decline.

It removes that film. And Firms the Gums

It accomplishes two important things at once: Removes that film, then firms the gums. No harsh grit, judged dangerous to enamel.

A few days' use will prove its power beyond all doubt. Why cling to old methods when world's authorities urge a better way?

VOL. 77. NO. 163.

BOY MESSENGER FOR BANK ROBBED OF $3600 AS HE WAITS FOR A BUS

Auto Drives Up to Curb on Delmar at Goodfellow and Man Grabs Satchel
From James F. Cross, 15.

HOLDUP MAN POINTS REVOLVER AT YOUTH

Young Employee of Hamilton
State Institution Got Off One Machine Because
There Was No Seat

The 15-year-old messenger of the Hamilton State Bank, at 5452 Delmar boulevard, was robbed of a satchel containing $3600 cash and $25,700 checks by a man who reached from the running board of an automobile as he waited for an eastbound bus at Delmar boulevard at Goodfellow avenue, shortly after 9 a. m. today.

The boy, James F. Cross, 4955 Magnolia avenue, was standing at the curb when the automobile, a new Flint touring car with a 1925 license, occupied by two men, drew up before him. A man with an automatic pistol stepped to the running board, grabbed the satchel from the messenger's hand and sprang back into the car, which moved rapidly eastward.

Auto Used Had Been Stolen.

An hour after the robbery, a policeman found the robber's car abandoned at Euclid and Fountain avenues. The bundle of checks, of no value to robbers, was found intact on the floor, where was also the messenger's satchel, and a brown overcoat belt which the police believe may serve as a clue. The machine is the property of H. W. Kenaston of 5546 Pershing avenue, stolen last Thursday, and the license plate was one taken from another machine a few days ago. A police character loitering in the neighborhood was arrested for questioning.

A week ago, almost to the hour, a negro messenger for the Hamilton State Bank was slugged on a Hodiamont street car, at Goodfellow avenue, a few blocks north of the scene of today's robbery, by three men who took a satchel containing $7400 cash and $13,000 checks.

"Jabbed Pistol Into Ribs.

"Cross walked back to his bank and gave his version of the robbery. "I left the bank about 9:05 o'clock and boarded an eastbound bus directly in front," he said to a Post-Dispatch reporter. "The bus was all occupied downstairs and the conductor said I would have to sit on the upper deck or get off. It was too cold to sit up there, so I got off at the next stop, Goodfellow, and waited for another bus."

"It was approaching when the automobile, coming east, pulled up at the curb. The man on my side threw open the door and with one foot on the running board, grabbed my satchel. I held on and he jerked me toward the machine. "Then he jabbed his pistol into my ribs and shouted: 'Let go that grip or I'll let you have it all.' I let go and he jumped back into the car."

Cap Hides Robber's Features. The youthful messenger described the man as about 25 years old. He wore a heavy overcoat and a cap pulled down over his face concealed most of his features, the boy said.

Cross has been in the employ of the Hamilton State Bank since last November, doing clerical and messenger work. He makes a daily trip to the National City Bank at Seventh and Olive streets, through which his bank clears, at about the same hour and by the same route each day, and it is possible the robbery watched him. The cash was insured.

Bank Messenger Slugged on Street Car Week Ago. Last Tuesday at 9:50 a. m., three men on a Hodiamont car slugged the Hamilton State Bank's messenger and fled with his satchel containing $7400 cash. Before the day was over, police had raided an apartment at 722 Clara avenue, recovered $2400 of the stolen cash and arrested four men. Three of the offenders were indicted by the grand jury two days later on charges of highway robbery, having been identified by witnesses, and the fourth was charged with robbery in a warrant based on the identification of a torn $2 bill found in his possession.

The speed with which these men were captured was due to the vigilance of a beat patrolman, Louis Sanders, who observed two men enter the apartment house with a satchel and later noted a similarity in descriptions.
